SPECIAL DAYS ARE DESIGNATED FOR THE STATE FAIR

Opening On Saturday August 20, Be Devoted To The Children

ATTRACTIONS TO ENTERTAIN ALL

Racing Programs of Excellence To Be Offered —Classy Horse Shows

The children of the State of Missouri will be recognized by the Missouri State Fair this year, as in the past. Saturday, August 20, the opening day of the week's exposition, will be Children's Day, with all children 12 and under admitted free. Carnival rides, ice cream cones, peanuts, popcorn and cold drinks will be sold for a nickle throughout the day.

At 10:30 o'clock there will be a special children's party in the grandstand, with $75 in cash, and other awards in merchandise. A special band will feature Ted Hurlbut's Buckros 18-piece kid band in costume.

A full thrill day program will be presented that afternoon.

Sunday is American Legion Day, with a Legion program in front of the grandstand at 10:30 o'clock that morning, national circuit championship automobile races during the afternoon, and a two hour musical show at night.

Monday, first running race day, marks the grand opening of the night horse show and Ernie Young's Follies Internationale.

Tuesday is St. Louis and St. Louis county day, and the first harness race day. A special train from St. Louis, arriving at 11:45 o'clock in the morning will bring a delegation of St. Louis and St. Louis county folks, who will parade from the train to the main section of the grounds.

Tuesday afternoon the annual garden party of Federated Garden Club of Missouri will be held in the highway gardens.

Wednesday will be Governor's Day, Greater Kansas City Day, and the second harness race day. With the arrival of Governor Lloyd C. Stark, led by the Harrisonville high school band, on the grounds, at 10:45 o'clock, the official salute will be fired.

Thursday, as usual, wil be Big Thursday, with many attractions and an unusually splendid racing program.

Pettis county day is Friday, also the final card of harness races and running events.

The Fair will close Saturday, August 27, final auto race day and grand closing day.

Night Show Attractions

All previous night show attractions at the fair will be excelled by Ernie Young's "Follies Internationale," a brilliant and unique outdoor stage show, to be presented before the grandstand nightly, from Monday to Saturday, according to fair officials.

For the third year Ernie Young comes to Sedalia, First was "The Trip Around the World," then last year's avalanche of novelties, "Cavalcade of Hits," and this year he proudly offers "Follies Internationale," with a cast of fifty people.

Press reports from Canada where he has been showing this summer are indeed complimentary. State Fair audiences this year will be delighted at this great outdoor stage attraction, the Fair management avers.

It is hard to select any one act and mention it especially as all are outstanding. Beautiful settings, costumes and many tuneful melodies will round out a perfect show. From start to finish the "Follies Internationale" features good comedy.

This year Louise Millard, internationally known prima donna, is starred with Anita Wood, soubret, and a chorus recruited from many states.

"Fun on the Range," opens the program. This is a clever act in which Betty, the horse, does some humorous maneuverings. One number of which Ernie Young is justly proud is the "Treasure Chest," in which twenty beautiful girls are costumed to represent different jewels. After each "stone" is introduced eight girls do a special number on large rolling silver balls. Then the finale of the two and a quarter hour show, "Toy Parade," in which all members of the company take part in the big closing hit.

THREE OFFICERS OF U. A. W. OUSTED IN HEARING HELD

Another Suspended From Office For Period of Three Months

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—The United Automobile Workers of America's executive board tonight removed from office and expelled from the CIO union three of four suspended international vice-presidents. The fourth was suspended from office for three months.

Thoe given the most severe penalty possible under the union's constitution are Richard T. Frankensteen, Wyndham Mortimer and Ed Hall.

Walter N. Wells was suspended for three months dating from June 13, the day President Homer Martin suspended the four and also Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes.

Addes was tried by the board first, alone, and removed from office and expelled from the U. A. W. a month ago.

Martin charged the five officers with conspiring to "disrupt" the union and turn it over to the Communists.

Retaliated in Charges

The disciplined officers retaliated with charges Martin's administration was dominated by Jay Lovestone, head of the Independent Communist Labor League.

Martin was grim-faced as he slowly announced the verdict of the 18 members of the board who tried the officers. None of the defendants appeared before the board at the resumption of their trial today.

The U. A. W. president said Wells' penalty was lighter because he "never was identified with the so-called Communist conspiracy."

Wells incurred disfavor, Martin explained, because of his opposition to a group insurance plan for the union membership proposed by Martin.

Martin said Wells will be eligible to resume his vice-presidency Sept. 13.

The trial opened July 26 and dragged on with little accomplished for several days due to bickering between the pro and anti-Martin factions in the union leadership. Finally the board abandoned the secret hearing and ordered counsel for each side to file briefs covering their evidence, with arguments on these fixed for today.

EULOGY BY PRIEST FOR PEARL WHITE

PARIS, Aug. 6—An aged Catholic priest who called Pearl White his benefactress today pronounced the funeral oration for the film star of the old silent thrillers. She was buried in the presence of only a dozen of her most intimate friends.

Years ago when the actress bought a country place at Rambouillet she gave the priest, Father Theodore Neslay, a little church and burial ground on a corner of the estate.

The body of the former star, who died here Thursday, was taken to Passy cemetery where she was buried in a small plot of ground she bought three months ago.

CALLS FOR PROTECTION FROM A "SHAKEDOWN"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Republican National Committee called upon the civil service commission today to protect federal workers from a "shakedown" which it said had been undertaken by Oliver A. Quayle, Jr., treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

The committee made public what it said was a copy of a letter sent out over Quayle's signature to civil service as well as non-civil service employes.

BARKLEY APPEARS VICTOR IN THE KENTUCKY VOTE

Senator Leads Governor Chandler By Over 26,000 In Count

IN FEW DISTRICTS CHANDLER LEADS

Statements From The Candidates as The Tabulation Proceeds

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Courier-Journal in the 11:30 edition tonight said Senator Barkley had "won the Democratic nomination" over Governor A. B. Chandler.

By The Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE Ky., Aug. 6.—With 353,825 votes counted Senator Alben W. Barkley was leading Gov. A. B. Chandler by 26,691 on returns from 2822 precincts out of 4313 in today's Democratic senatorial primary.

On this taublation Barkley had 190,258 votes to 163,562 for Chandler.

Seventy three of the state's 120 counties were complete and only four had not reported. Counting in two of these counties was postponed until Monday.

The first report from Jefferson (Louisville) county of 36 precincts gave Barkley 3247 votes to 849 for Chandler. The counting in the country did not begin until after 9 p. m. (Central Standard Time).

Few Districts to Chandler

A check of the votes by districts showed Barkley leading in five of the nine congressional districts. In the sixth district, embracing Kentucky's famous bluegrass region, the vote was Chandler 20,120 and Barkley 19,994. Chandler had slight leads in the eighth and ninth districts in the mountainous region of eastern Kentucky. Barkley was ahead in the seventh district by a small margin.

In the Republican senatorial primary John P. Haswell continued to pick up a lead over his four opponents. Haswell had the backing of the state administration. Haswell's vote was 6,694 on returns from 874 precincts in 36 counties.

In a national broadcast tonight from his home in Versailles government Chandler said "all the power of the federal government" had been used "to bring about my defeat."

"As you know the President came to Kentucky and made a speech against us," he said. "They ran the WPA from 33,000 to about 100,000 x x x."

In conclusion the governor said: "We've made a gallant campaign and still have a smile on our face and a song in our hearts."

Senator Barkley in a radio speech from Paducah said:

"My friends, I have very little to say, except that I'm delighted with what seems to be an overwhelming nomination to the United State Senate."

Tabulation of the vote in Breathitt county where Lee Combs, former sheriff and an election commissioner, was killed Thursday night and Sheriff Walter Deaton also an election commissioner, was wounded was postponed until Monday. The Hart county tabulation also was postponed until Monday.

Backing of Roosevelt

Barkley had the personal backing in the race of President Roosevelt.

Three of the eight democratic congressmen were renominated without opposition.

Bloodshed marked the bitter rivalry between the Barkley and Chandler factions in Breathitt county, where in 1921 four persons were killed and 17 wounded in an election shooting. Former Sheriff Lee Combs was killed on the stairway of a building housing Barkley headuarters. His brother, Lewis Combs, county chairman for Chandler and Sheriff Walter Deaton were wounded. Five men, including the Barkley county chairman, are sought in the shooting.

Charges federal and state funds were being used in the present campaign was one of the many highlights. The senate campaign expenditures committee took cognizance of the reports and sent investigators into the state.

Charged Attempts on Life

Statements from two physicians that Governor Chandler, who became ill in a Louisville hotel after a speech, was suffering from "poison" in drinking water, created a campaign sensation. Major Joe Burman of the state highway patrol, who traveled with the governor, said three other poison attempts had been made on Chandler's life.

PREDICTS BE NO THIRD TERM TO FDR

CHEYENNE, WYO., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Former Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican candidate for president in 1936, said today that President Roosevelt "will go down to a crushing defeat" if he runs for a third term.

"I am certain the people of this country would oppose a third term for Mr. Roosevelt with the same indignation they opposed his attempt to pack the supreme court," Landon said in an interview.

He is enroute with a party of Kansas business men to Saratoga, Wyo., on a fishing trip.

"The third term precedent is too powerful for him to break," Landon added.

The former Kansas governor declined to comment on possible Republican candidates for president in 1940, and reiterated previous statements that he would not accept the nomination.

"The country never has seen a parallel situation in its history," he said. "Dominating as it does nearly every state capital, the Democratic party still hasn't a candidate for president in 1940."

In the party with Landon were Lee E. Phillips of Bartlesville, Okla.; Roy Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star; N. A. Williams, general manager of the Union Pacific Railroad.

VIOLATIONS OF OLD AGE PENSION LAW ALLEGED

Investigation of Charges Against Gov. Davey and H. J. Berrodin

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 6.—The oft-investigated Democratic administration of Gov. Martin L. Davey faced a federal inquiry of old age pension law violations tonight almost on the eve of Ohio's Tuesday's primary election.

Davey, seeking a third term nomination is opposed by Charles Sawyer, national Democratic committeeman, whose forces have charged administration workers were "intimidating" old age pensioners to vote for Davey.

The social security board set off a new blast in the bombastic campaign today with announcement in Washington it might cut off old age pension funds for Ohio because of alleged political activities of Davey and H. J. Berrodin, state pension division chief.

It ordered an immediate investigation of charges Davey and Berrodin sought to influence pension recipients' votes. The state and federal government share equally the cost of pensions for 110,542 persons in Ohio.

Letters were sent to pensioners with their checks recalling Davey's part in securing pension fund increases, the board said. It declared this was "contrary to the purposes of the social security act and of the laws of Ohio."

Photostatic Copies Made

In Washington Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the board, made public photostatic copies of the letters.

Moreover, officials said the board received information two weeks ago that recipients of the pensions were visited by representatives of certain political candidates, who talked to them about their pensions and the coming election. The board is investigating these reports.

Late next week, members said, it expects to set a date for a hearing on the Davey and Berrodin letters.

The state has received $36,648,162 in federal funds for its old age pensions since February, 1936. Monthly checks average $23.02.

It is essential to the efficient administration of state assistance plans operating under the social security act that no attempt be made by public assistance officials and employes to influence recipients of such assistance in their exercise of their right to vote," Altmeyer wrote to Berrodin, he continued:

"Other information in the possession of the board indicates that there are serious deficiencies in the administration of old-age assistance in Ohio."

Chairman Sheppard (D.-Tex.) of the senate campaign funds committee, told reporters that group would keep informed regarding the social security board's inquiry, although its jurisdiction was limited to senatorial contests.

SOVIET FORCES ARE REPULSED IN A NIGHT ATTACK

Heavy Losses Inflicted According to Japanese Communique

RUSSIAN FLIERS BOMB A RAILWAY

Communication Interrupted—Intensive Aerial Raids

YUKI, Korea (Near the Siberian border), Aug. 7.—(Sunday)—(AP)—A Japanese communique said today Soviet Russian troops staged a night attack on disputed Changkufeng hill but were repulsed with heavy losses.

The communique said three Soviet regiments began advancing shortly before dusk Saturday, accompanied by many tanks.

They charged Japanese positions and by midnight were repulsed after severe hand-to-hand fighting, the communique said.

Japanese reported today about 100 Soviet airplanes were involved in yesterday's invasion of Korean territory.

In addition to two Soviet planes said to have been downed by anti-aircraft fire, four heavy Russian guns were said to have been silenced by retaliatory Japanese shelling.

Bomb Railway Line

KOGI, Korea (near the Siberian border, by courier to Yuki), Aug. 6—(AP)—A Soviet Russian air raid this afternoon on Korea brought a Japanese army communique which declared it only a question of time until the Japanese would retaliate.

A reliable eye-witness reported 24 Russian planes bombed the Tumenrashin railway at a point 15 miles northwest of Yuki as well as a highway running from Yuki. It was termed the most intensive aerial attack ever made against a Korean objective.

Railway communications were interrupted. The railway parallels the northeastern Korean border and connects Rashin, the Korean seaport, with Kirin and Hsinking, Manchoukuo.

It runs within a few miles of the Changkufeng sector, scene of hostilities in the Soviet Russian-Japanese dispute over the Siberian-Manchoukuoan border.

The communique said the Soviet raiders also attacked Korean villages. Korea is Japanese territory. Manchoukuo is a Japanese protectorate.

Shelled by Artillery

The communique said also Russian artillerymen "shelled Changkufeng and nearby Shuiliufeng Heights fiercely since early morning."

"The Japanese policy heretofore has been patient, but now we are highly indignant at this unwarranted manifestation of the Soviets' challenging attitude whereby they crossed the border and bombed peaceful Korean villages."

The communique said today's attack brought the total of aerial incursions over Korea to 77.

At 3:30 p. m. this writer saw more than 20 planes engaged in a dogfight in the direction of Changkufeng.

The eye-witness who brought the report of the railway bombing to this mountain village overlooking Changkufeng said no Japanese planes engaged the attackers, but that intensive fire from the ground brought down one plane.

Leaps From Plane

The pilot leaped out of the stricken plane in his parachute.

In Tokyo, a Japanese army communique reported a Soviet battalion of unspecified strength made a slight advance on the Chagkufeng Heights but were dispersed by Japanese artillery.

Thirteen bombers and six pursuit planes flew over Changkufeng, the Japanese said, but dropped no bombs.

Domei—Japanese news agency—reported the Japanese ambassador to Moscow, Mamoru Shigemitsu, had received fresh instructions to proceed with diplomatic negotiations sticking to lines already laid down in conferences with Soviet foreign Commissar Maxin Litvinoff.

Japan first suggested mutual troop withdrawal from the danger zone pending demarcation of the frontier between Siberia and Japanese supported Manchoukuo

Litvinoff countered with the agreement Russia would withdraw if Japan recognized validity of the Russo-Chinese treaty of 1886 which locates Changkufeng within Siberia's boundaries—a condition distasteful to the Japanese.

Despite military developments, the foreign office spokesman remained optimistic frontier fighting would be kept to an isolated area and that "some progress" toward a peaceful solution had been made by the Shigemitsu-Litvinoff talks.

OFFICIAL COUNT OF PRIMARY VOTES BE TOTALLED MONDAY

The official count of the votes cast in the primary election in Pettis County was made Saturday by W. B. Rissler, county clerk, and Malcolm Scott and A. M. Leftwich, county judges.

The count was completed late in the afternoon but because it will take some time to add each candidate's total vote that will not be begun until Monday, and will probably be completed in time to be published in Monday night's Democrat.

INSURGENTS BREAK LOYALISTS LINES

By The Associated Press.

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier) Aug. 6.—The insurgent general staff reported an offensive which started late today had broken through government lines at several points along the Ebro river front in Eastern Spain.

"Militiamen were fleeing as fast as they could," an insurgent communique said in describing the surprise drive by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops along the Ebro.

The dispatch said "terrible losses were inflicted on the enemy whose retreat developed into a rout" in the Fayon sector. Three thousand government fighters were reported killed and 2,000 taken prisoner.

"The red (government) infantrymen were throwing themselves into the river where our machine-gun fire continued to pursue them," the insurgent communique said.

"More than 200 of our planes flew over various sectors, causing heavy losses."

The sudden insurgent push came at a time when the government fighters held the offensive generally.

RAIN HARDLY SUFFICIENT TO BENEFIT CORN MUCH

A very welcome rain of .40 of an inch fell in Sedalia Saturday morning, but with the ground as dry as it was that amount was hardly enough to benefit the corn and revive pastures.

The corn is particularly in need of moisture, and other crops would also benefit by rain.

Retail Grocers To Meet

The membership of the Sedalia Independent Retail Grocers Association will meet in regular session Monday night at Hotel Bothwell at 8:00 oclock. This will be an important business meeting and all members are urged to be present

JAPANESE NAVY ASKED TO AID IN CLIPPER SEARCH

Embassy of U. S. At Tokyo Denies Report Aircraft Found

MESSAGE BY RADIO TO VESSEL AT SEA

Requested to Go By Way of Douglas Reef In Quest

TOKYO, Aug. 7.—(Sunday)—(AP)—The Japanese navy today radioed the steamer Canberra, en route from Australia to Japan, to go by way of Douglas reef to look for the missing Hawaii Clipper.

The navy's announcement of the order said the United States embassy had reported the big plane found and asked aid. The embassy later denied this.

Douglas reef is just north of the route the clipper expected to follow from Guam to Manilla when when she took off July 28.

Request Made for Aid

Eugene H. Dooman, counselor of the American embassy, said the Pan-American Airways had calculated the Clipper might be in the vicinity of Douglas Reef and had asked the embassy to request Japanese aid.

As a result, he said, he asked the Japanese navy if such help could be given and the navy radioed the Canberra Maru, which happened to be the nearest vessel to the reef.

Conjecture on Drift

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The state department issued the following statement tonight concerning the search for the missing Hawaiian Clipper:

"The state department this afternoon informed the American embassy at Tokyo that the Pan American Airways believes the Hawaiian Clipper may be in the vicinity of Parece Vela (Douglas reef), 20 degrees 25 minutes north and 136 degrees and five minutes east, which is in the approximate area of probable drift and would greatly appreciate a search."

Assumed as Lost

Only today, J. T. Tippe, president of the Pan American Airways system, said in New York that "We are regretfully forced to the assumption that the Hawaii Clipper, with all aboard, was lost at sea early in the afternoon of July 28."

The Hawaii Clipper was the third of three 4-enginer, 3,800-horsepower flying boats designed by Glenn L. Martin Company of Baltimore, M. D., and commissioned for trans-Pacific service.

One of the largest transport aircraft in service anywhere in the world, the Clipper had a gross weight of 52,000 pounds, a length of 90 feet and wing span of 130 feet.

On its last trip, the Hawaii Clipper carried two additional pilots in training for ocean service, making a total crew of nine for the flight.

As standard equipment, the Clipper carried life jackets for all pasengers and crew, rubber life boats and rations for 30 days.

The Clipper itself was built was constructed with a series of five bulk-head compartments, for service on the open sea and which could be made water-tight and any two of which would keep the ship afloat indefinitely, Pan American said.

Six passengers and a crew of nine, including two extra pilots training for ocean service, were aboard the Clipper when it left Guam for Manila.

WHAT'S VALUABLE?

A Chicago man who has just made a tour of the southwest is back home now, waiting for blindness to come upon him. Seeing the southwest was his life's ambition, and now that he has realized it he is ready, he says, for the fate which specialists have told him will overtake him within a year's time.

He knew what he wanted to do more than anything else, and when it became clear to him suddenly how little time was remaining to do it in he found a way to get it done.

He was different from many men in more than his accomplishment of the thing he was after. He knew what he wanted.

If you were told now that your sight would be gone in a year's time, what task would you set your eyes to? Is it your chief ambition to see certain places in the earth? Are there books you have always looked forward to reading? Works of art you always hoped some day to see?

Imagining that your sight is only a temporary possession is a good way to discover exactly what it is your spirit holds valuable. And the terror of it ought to be sufficient to shock you into the determination to go after those experiences—instead of spending the rest of your days merely looking forward to them.

DO HAVE SOME CULTURE

News of the appointment of a director for the newly created Cultural Relations division of the State Department recalls to the mind the fact that a kind of cultural battle of roses has been in process in the countries to the south, and some curiosity arises as to how the thing is getting on at this stage.

Referred to, of course, is the literary, musical, artistic, and ideological bombardment of South America by some half dozen powers across the seas. What recalls it is the fact that the work of the Cultural Relations division will be, to put it in sordid commercial terms, to "sell the American idea" to the South Americans.

This process involves teacher-exchanges, co-operation in developing the various artistic fields, sending books of American authors, helping build libraries and arrange exhibitions, sending musical works and musicians, and making international radio broadcasts. This is generally what the other countries are doing.

The realistic word for this is propaganda. But a little meditation on the variety and abundance of cultures that are being pressed on the South Americans makes one wonder whether any particular political propaganda is going to get a word in edgewise. It look's from here as if maybe the big thing that's going to happen to South America is simply the creation of an extraordinary cosmopolitan culture.

At any rate, it becomes obvious that there's nothing like being sought-after.

'INCIDENTS' ARE NEVER THE REAL CAUSES OF WAR

If you can make any particular sense out of the alarming and conflicting reports about the Japanese-Russian border clashes, and can satisfy yourself from them which side is taking the aggressive, you will be doing a great deal better than most of your fellow countrymen.

Nothing in the whole imbroglio seems to make sense. One side relates that the other has been committing wilful and unprovoked attacks; the other denies this and says precisely the same thing about its opponent. All that seems really clear is that some highly confused fighting has been taking place, that a number of men have been killed, and that the world is standing on the very brink of a new and terrible war whose ultimate consequences are absolutely unpredictable.

Whether that war will actually develop is beyond the power of human forecasting right now. But the whole tragic business does provide a working illustration of the truth that the immediate cause of a war is never the real cause.

Japan and Russia may go to war now and they may not; but their real quarrel is not the brush between two groups of frontier guards, or the question of ownership of an unimportant and doubtless unattractive little Manchurian hill.

The tragic, fundamental truth seems to be that Asia, huge as it is, just isn't big enough to hold both Japan and Russia—or not, at any rate, under the ideas which their respective governments hold. For it happens to be the aim of each government to dominate the whole continent.

A few men in the Kremlin have looked to the future and have seen a particular kind of world taking shape there. If their vision is to come true, Russia must be mistress of Asia.

A few other men in Tokio have likewise looked to the future and have seen another kind of world taking shape. And if their vision is to come true, Japan must be mistress of Asia.

* * *

There is the cause of this border skirmish, and of the terrible thunderheads which are piling up on the horizon. Two ideas, two visions, two grandiose and far-reaching plans, are in conflict.

Whether the average Russian and the average Japanese knows or cares much about those ideas is beside the point. His job is simply to die for the chosen plan, when the right time comes.

To understand the cause of this threatening war, it is these conflicting visions and schemes which must be studied, not the details of one isolated clash. They mean no more than did the pistol shot which killed the Archduke Franz Ferdinand in 1914.

Here, as elsewhere, conventional mindedness is the root of most evil.—Leslie Craven, attorney, addressing the American Bar Association on the management of railroads.

It Happened In America

(Copyright, 1938, L. O. Honig—All Rights Reserved)

The disastrous wrecking of the crack "Olympian" of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway at Miles City, Montana, Sunday, June 19 last, in which 46 passengers lost their lives and many were injured, recalls another great disaster of a similar nature, occurring over 80 years ago.

It will be remembered that according to newspaper accounts, Custer Creek, 26 miles east of Miles City, was practically dry shortly before the Olympian reached that place. Then as if in a flash in the midnight darkness the creek was at an estimated 20 feet depth resulting from a cloudburst. The bridge gave away when the Olympian's engine was nearly across the creek. It fell into the raging waters, and dragged the tender, mail car, and three tourist sleepers in after it. The flood waters were running at track level when the racing locomotive pitched into the creek, toppling seven of the twelve cars into the water—a jackstraw heap of bent steel.

Just 83 years ago another great wreck under similar circumstances, resulted in the loss of 28 lives and the serious injuring of 30 persons. As far as is known this was the first great disaster in steam railroad history.

The Pacific Railroad of Missouri, the pioneer railroad in that state, received its charter from the Secretary of State in 1849. It was the forerunner of the present Missouri Pacific Railroad system. On May 6, 1853, the road was open to traffic to Kirkwood, Missouri, a distance of 14 miles west of St. Louis; then by February, 1855, it was completed to Washington, Missouri, and in August to Hermann; and finally on November 1, to Jefferson, (the State Capitol), as it was then called, a distance of 125 miles, under the direction of its Chief Engineer James P. Kirkwood, for whom Kirkwood, Missouri, was named. This later stage in the development of this great rail road system was the occasion for a gigantic celebration. Thousands were waiting in Jefferson for the arrival of the first train. Its arrival was to be a gala event for all day long people were coming in from all directions. Prominent citizens of both Jefferson and St. Louis made up the passenger "honored guest" list. At the time there were only 7,000 miles of railroad track on the American continent, while today the United States has over 250,000 miles of track, or better than one-third of the total trackage of all countries in the world.

The scene at St. Louis was one of great rejoicing, for it meant that soon St. Louis and its sister city across the state—Kansas City—would be linked in a much faster transportation service than the slow river boats which sometimes took fourteen days.

Finally the excited trainload moved uneventfully in toward its destination. There was just one gap between Jefferson and St. Louis—the bridge over the Moreau, a small stream just below Jefferson, which was not completed, and to which a locomotive and cars had been sent by boat, so that the guests could be transferred at this point. The Gasconade river bridge also was not completed but the temporary trestle had been subjected to severe tests by running a freight train over it in the morning heavily loaded with sand, and it was deemed safe by the railroad officials

A gloomier day than November 1, 1855, never dawned on Jefferson. A pall seemed to hang over everything. The outlook was cheerless beyond destription. No glimpse of sunlight throughout the day; a cold piercing wind combined with a driving rain chilled the ardent expectation of even the most enthusiastic. But in the earliest morning hours of that fateful day, people began pouring into town, from far and near—a perfect beehive of men, women and children. The St. Louis guests were to be received at the Capitol Building, and here the feast had been spread, and everything that could tempt the palate was there in lavish profusion.

Then the unrecognized warning came — lightning flashed with startling vividness, seeming to actually run along the iron rails ahead of the train, as it pulled out of the little town of Hermann, and forged ahead in the storm; peal after peal of thunder followed each other sharply—the Gasconade and even the smallest rivulets and gulches had swollen to madly rushing torrents.

Suddenly from out of the darkness came the fearful cry: "We are in the Gasconade!"—In a moment—the interval was shorter than it takes to tell it—there came a terrible crash, as the locomotive and tender, and seven passenger cars made the awful plunge into the abyss of death. The eighth car hung suspended perpendicularly over the awful chasm, and confusion reigned within it.

The first body taken from the wreck was that of Rev. Dr. Bullard, an eminent Presbyterian minister. He had been laid on some stones, his pallid face upturned to the pitiless rain. At a deserted hovel a few yards away the body of a boy had been brought, his head crushed, but still living. Many were the horrible scenes as those who were uninjured hurried about in the rescue and care of the dead and injured. Among the 28 dead were seven of the original thirteen who signed the invitation for the festivities at Jefferson

All the while this terrible scene was being enacted, the multitudes at Jefferson were waiting in happy anticipation of giving a rousing reception to those participating in this historic event As they waited the interest and excitement increased. The train was due of 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The time passed, then 4 o'clock and still no tidings. The people grew restlessly impatient, and at 5 o'clock anxiety and a dread that some great calamity had happened were everywhere manifest. The heaped up edibles at the capitol and the tempting viands went unheeded, and somehow disappeared.

As darkness came the country people started for home, but Jefferson knew no rest. It was known that many of its citizens were aboard the train, and it was known too that some fears had previously been expressed about the safety of the Gasconade bridge. —"Have you heard any news"—"Do you suppose anything has happened?"—These questions met one at every turn, but no satisfactory answers could be given—not a solitary word of comfort to relieve the almost intolerable suspense

Many Jeffersonians feared for their loved ones among the excursionists. Many were those among the waiting crowd whose weary, tearful eyes were unvisited by sleep that fearful night. A steamboat passed by at daybreak the next morning, and was only able to report having passed the mouth of the Gasconade early in the night, noticing what seemed to be many camp-fires near the bridge. The excitement increased, if possible, and the gloomiest forebodings were freely indulged in

At last the terrible news came. The long train with its living cargo of pleasure seekers had gone down in the Gasconade, and the wildest and most exaggerated rumors of the loss of life gained currency. But the unvarnished reality was horrible enough. Some of Missouri's most prominent citizens had gone to their deaths and woe and grief reigned in a score of homes throughout the state.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The most momentous industrial decision of the year is now at stake before the little-noticed Public Contracts Board of the Labor Department.

It has just finished a hearing on which depends not only the earnings of several million workers, but perhaps the November elections.

Nominally, the Board will rule only on the prevailing wage scale for common labor in the steel industry. Actually, that is only one part of the picture. Behind the scenes is the dramatic life-and-death struggle between the great steel operators. In fact, this is the real root of the wage dispute. Here is the background of the crisis:

Between the years 1929-33 the so-called "Little Steel" corporations—Inland, Bethlehem, National, Republic, Otis—modernized plants with the continuous strip mill process and undersold U. S. Steel. For years under the late Judge Gary, U. S. Steel had dominated the industry, but now "Little Steel" wrested away large hunks of Big Steel's" market.

When Myron Taylor, now U. S. envoy to the Refugee Conference, took command of U. S. Steel, however, he launched a vast program of modernization; so that when he retired last year the corporation had the most modern plants in the world, and had been decentralized to meet every conceivable competition from the independents.

With its plants strategically located in Birmingham, Chicago and Pittsburgh, "Big Steel" was ready to go after "Little Steel" and recapture its markets.

The Attack

First move in this campaign was the price cut announced by U. S. Steel last spring.

This was a competitive attack in every sense of the word. Bethlehem, whose Eugene Grace is the real brains of "Little Steel," had indicated plans for a moderate price cut. U. S. Steel immediately answered the challenge.

It not only undercut Bethlemen's proposed cut even more important, wiped out the long-standing regional price differentials under which steel, no matter where purchased, was always priced F. O. B. Pittsburgh.

This move was one of the most revolutionary in the history of the steel industry.

What it meant was that by one stroke U. S. Steel, through its strategically located plants, once again dominated the markets of those key industrial areas.

No longer could the independents, bulwarked by the "Pittsburgh Plus" price system, compete freely with U. S. Steel in the South and West. Henceforth when they attempted to sell in these rapidly expanding manufacturing sections, they had to meet price competition plus freight costs—a practically insurmountable combination.

U. S. Steel had declared war—and with vengeance.

CIO Counter-Moves

The answer of the independents was to start agitation for a wage cut.

Under the leadership of Taylor, U. S. Steel had made industrial history by entering into a contract with the C. I. O. The independents, at the cost of much blood and money, successfully resisted the unionization of their plants. But they had had to raise their pay scales to the "Big Steel" level.

If they could smash unionization, they would be better able to compete with their giant rivals.

It was at this point that the C. I. O. entered the arena and by a surprise flank attack brought the federal government squarely into the fierce conflict.

CIO strategy was the use of the Walsh-Healy Act which set up the Public Contracts Board with power to fix prevailing wage scales on government work. The C. I. O. went before the Board and formally demanded that it fix steel wages.

As a large portion of current steel output is under government contract, the pay rates fixed by the Board automatically will apply to all steel production.

Today the prevailing wage in all areas, except the Atlantic coast where Bethlehem dominates, is 62½ cents an hour. The Bethlehem rate is 56½ cents.

So C. I. O. asked the Contracts Board to make the 62½-cent rate universal and that Bethlehem be required to accept it. The union's argument was that by allowing the corporation a wage differential the government, in effect, was "subsidizing pay cutters."

Unexpected Ally

The most amazing spectacle of the Board's hearing was the A. F. of L. which lined up with the anti-union independents against the C. I. O.'s fight to prevent a wage cut.

Boris Shiskin, research director of the Federation, took the witness stand and voiced practically the same views expressed by the corporations; (1) that the Board should delay making a decision; and (2) that there were insufficient statistics available on which to base a ruling.

After he had taken his seat, Shiskin was berated by a C. I. O. lawyer..

"If we wanted to play the kind of dirty fighting you did," he said, "we'd take the stand and put into the record the fact that the A. F. of L. hasn't a single contract with a basic steel manufacturer. Why did you do what you did?"

"I came here under orders," Shiskin replied. "I had to go through with it."

Note—Miss Perkins has the power to over-ride any of the Board's findings, but she will not act until she can consult with the President. The decision is too important.

MYSTERY AT THE LAZY R

BY CLARKE NEWLON

CAST OF CHARACTERS
NIKKI JEROME, heroine; blond, popular, is engaged to six-foot, black-haired STEVE MALLORY, hero; who is accompanying her on a trip to Nikki's aunt and uncle on a Wyoming dude ranch. Nikki's father, PETER JEROME, is a wealthy New York jewel merchant.

* * *

Yesterday: Sarto holds the party at gunpoint and awaits the last two searchers coming in. Rance stirs uneasily.

CHAPTER XIII

SARTO resumed his seat on the bench. Steve thought: Maybe with two of them coming in at once something will happen. Then he remembered that they would have only one gun. Woody had lost his in the landslide just as he and Nikki had lost theirs.

The two came into the clearing and Steve's hope fell when he saw Woody in the lead carrying the one rifle. He didn't know Fiske's part in this game, but he felt sure the man was playing a leading role of some sort and any change would be better than the present situation. But with Fiske unarmed he couldn't do much.

Woody started to speak when he saw the quartet sitting tensely by the tree. But Sarto cut the words short before they were uttered.

"Get 'em up." The pistol made a menacing arc.

"You, bandylegs, drop the rifle. Now go over by the tree.

"Don't move, Fiske." The words cut like a knife. "Turn around and keep those hands up." He wrenched a blue revolver from a holster under Fiske's left arm.

"Now go over with the rest of them before I give you the works just for the fun of it."

Fiske's face was a quiet mask as he joined the others. Rance was tense. Like an animal ready to spring, Nikki thought. Her uncle was quiet, too.

Sarto stood off and surveyed them. Only Fiske spoke.

"Where's Bancroft?" he asked.

"Ask Mallory," said Sarto contemptuously. "He'll tell you—if he doesn't get too jumpy and collect a bullet too. And that goes for the rest of you. I'm gettin' out of here, right now. But you're not going. You'll stay here. All but one of you. We'll take the horses. The rest of you can stay on this lousy mountain and starve for all I care.

"Hey, sheepherder. You, bandylegs. Get up. You're going back to the ranch with me. You're going to lead the way. But I got a job for you first. You can tie your friends up."

* * *

WOODY rose slowly to his feet. His arms hung loosely at his sides. Every move he made was deliberate. His face was cold rage.

"Careful," said Uncle Jim. "Take it easy."

"Shut up," said Sarto. "I'm doin' all the talking. Bandylegs, get those ropes off the wall." He pointed to coiled riatas hanging against the cabin. To get them Woody had to pass directly in front of Sarto. He walked slowly, still deliberately. He didn't look at Sarto. His eyes were on the coiled lariats.

"Hey, Sarto," cried Uncle Jim. Sarto turned his head. Woody sprang.

He didn't try for the gun. He made a flying dive for Sarto's feet. The pistol went down in a clubbing arc. It struck a glancing blow and Woody went limp.

Rance was three feet away when Sarto raised the gun and fired pointblank. Rance twisted half sidewise as the bullet struck, but he went on. He hit Sarto like a fullback plunging into right tackle.

His shoulder caught Sarto high and knocked him sprawling to the ground. He landed with a cursing grunt and that vicious pistol spat blue flame again, but Rance's momentum carried him too far. The bullet thudded dully into the logs of the cabin.

Steve was on his feet with Rance, but his first thought was of Nikki. For the briefest split second of time thoughts in half-formed sentences ran through his mind. Then he remembered something once vaguely noted. Before the first sharp crack of the pistol he swung a swift left to Nikki's chin. He remembered the shock of surprise on her face as she straightened flatly.

* * *

SARTO was struggling to his feet after the second shot when Steve hit him. The blow behind the ear spun him around and Steve grabbed desperately for the gun. Sarto swung it above his head. Steve drove his fist into Sarto's stomach. The clubbing pistol grazed Steve's ear. It struck his shoulder with sickening force and he butted upward viciously. Sarto staggered back and Steve drove forward blindly, both fists hammering. They were on the ground and suddenly Sarto seemed to have only one arm. Then he went limp.

Steve opened his eyes and looked up. Fiske was pinning down the arm that held the pistol. Uncle Jim stood at Sarto's head holding the rifle that Steve sensed he had used to knock Sarto out.

A thousand red-hot needles jabbed at Steve's shoulder when he got up. Uncle Jim had started over to Rance. He was sitting up, dazedly. A red stain was spreading slowly on his shirt. They helped him to the bench and Uncle Jim ripped the shirt away with one swift motion.

"Flesh wound," he said after a minute's examination, and Steve felt a swift surge of relief. He looked at Woody. That little man was trying to get to his feet. With one hand he felt gingerly of his head. Steve helped him to a bench.

"What about Sarto?" Steve asked Uncle Jim.

"I reckon Fiske will look after him when he comes to—which won't be for a minute or two yet. I hit him a mite hard."

* * *

STEVE saw Fiske squatting by Sarto. He was examining the pistol he had wrenched from the gunman's fingers. Then Steve heard his name called in a small voice. He hurried over and helped Nikki to her feet.

"Wh—what happened?" she asked faintly.

"You were right in line of fire, so—"

"So you hit me," she finished. "I know." She cradled her jaw gently in the palm of her hand. "You certainly did a swell job of putting me out of the battle." Then she saw Rance. Her eyes turned questioningly to Steve.

"Only a flesh wound," he said. "Bullet went right through his shoulder, Nikki," Uncle Jim called. "These steel-jackets make a nice clean wound. He'll be as good as new in three, four days."

Then Fiske called.

"I expect we'd better truss this gentleman up before he comes to," he said. "Easiest that way."

"Sure," said Uncle Jim. "Steve, lend him a hand. Take one of these riatas and be darn sure you do a good job. He's a pretty bad hombre, judgin' from what he did to the rest of us. But I thought he'd call Woody bandylegs once too often." He grinned at Woody.

"Called me a sheepherder, too," muttered the guide.

Steve walked over to the cabin, but instead of reaching for one of the coils of rope, he leaned over the bench and came up with a rifle. The movement sent sharp pains through his shoulder, but he knew by this time it was only bruised.

Turning easily so he could cover Fiske by merely raising the gun, Steve said, a little wearily:

"We'll tie up Sarto, but first I want to know who Fiske is. One man's been murdered and a couple of others half killed on this trip. Before we go any further, I want to know why Fiske carries a revolver in a shoulder holster and just what his part is in this business anyway."

Fiske turned swiftly.

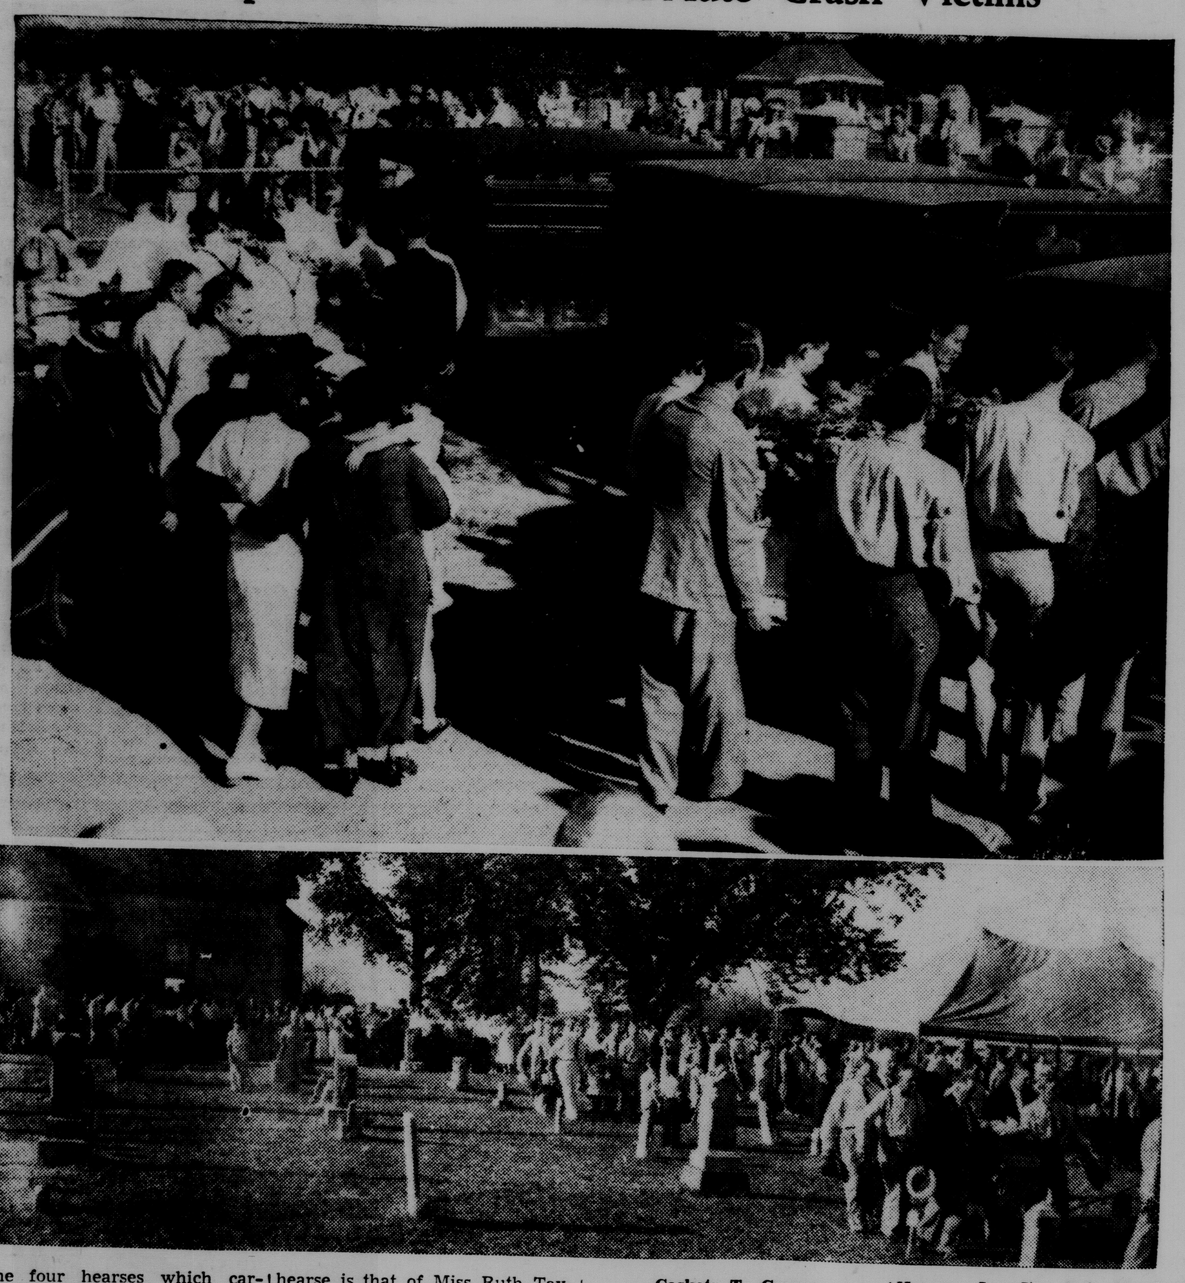
Quadruple Funeral for Train-Auto Crash Victims



The four hearses which carried the bodies of the victims in a train-automobile accident at the "Hoy" McConley, Missouri Pacific crossing two miles west of Dresden, Thursday night, are shown in the upper picture in front of the Mt. Zion Christian church, a mile and a half south of Dunksburg, Mo., where a quadrule funeral service was conducted Friday afternoon.

In the picture the casket being carried into the church yard is that of Nathan Faulconer, the one being removed from the hearse is that of Miss Ruth Taylor, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor. The caskets of Newton Fisher and his son, Sam Fisher had already been taken into the church.

The family of Miss Taylor, and that of Mr. Falconer, are shown at the left, awaiting the removal of the caskets.

Part of the crowd, which was estimated at more than 500, is seen in the church yard, unable to gain entrance to the crowded church.

Caskets To Graves

The picture below is the church yard and cemetery of the church, with the caskets of the victims being carried to the graves. That in front is Mr. Newton Fisher, behind that is Samuel Fisher, his son, the third casket being carried eastward is Nathan Faulconer, son-in-law of Newton Fisher, and the one in the rear is Miss Ruth Taylor, granddaughter of Mr. Fisher.

The funeral services for the four victims were conducted at the Mt. Zion church, one-half mile south of Dunksburg, Mo., by the Rev. C. E. Hawn, of Warrensburg, and the Rev. J. A. De Witt, of Beaman, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Members of the church choir and friends furnished the music for the services: O. C. Forsythe, Mrs. Mary Tyler, Miss Florean Rice, Mrs. V. W. Hedgecock, Mr. Lloyd Hedgecock and Wayne Van Bibber. Miss Helen Hedgecock accompanied at the piano. They sang the following hymns, "Rock of Ages," "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Nearer Still Nearer."

Friends who served as pallbearers were: for Nathan Faulconer, Joe Scott, Gilman Scott, L. W. Harris, Wilford Brandt, Bruce Gardner and James Gardner.

For Sam Fischer: Robert Thompson, Clay Herman, D. J. Harwin, T. E. Hoake, Tom Settle and Earl Clevenger.

For Newton Fisher: Otto Baldwin, Andrew Malloy, Charles Scharnhorst, Ernest Lee, Lewis Benton and F. W. Winston.

School mates of Miss Ruth Taylor served for her: Ernest Guthrie, Kenneth Stuart, John Homan, Jr., Jim Bob Marshall, Calvert Craig and William Moles.

Interments were made in the different family lots in the Mt. Zion church cemetery.

The Westbrook Funeral Home and the Ewing Funeral Home were in charge of the services.

C. R. SHRIVER DIES AT WARRENSBURG

Carl Raymond Shriver, 56, died about 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the Estes Hotel, Warrensburg, wwhere he had been ill for a number of months. Mr. Shriver, proprietor of the hotel, suffered with heart trouble.

The funeral was held at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Sweeney-Phillips chapel, Warrensburg, conducted by the Rev. V. T. Wood, pastor of the Christian church of which he was a member. Burial was in Sunset Hill.

Mr. Shriver went to Warrensburg to be associated with his son-in-law, C. J. McConnell, in the management of the Estes Hotel. He purchased the business January 1.

Mrs. Shriver and the daughter, Mrs. McConnell, his mother, whose home is at Clio, Iowa, and four sisters are left. The sisters are Mrs. F. L. Kimple of Redlands, Calif.; Mrs. Victor Maxwell of Veech, Iowa; Mrs. Homer McGuire of Delta, Iowa, and Mrs. Ralph Bateman of Arlington, Iowa.

Mrs. O. L. Scott of Sedalia, a sister of Mrs. Shriver went to Warrensburg for the services.

MAJORITY TO E. W. COUEY IN PRIMARY 1,355

In the tabulation of the primary election vote in Wednesday's paper, the figures shown for state representative were incorrect. E. W. Coney, the nominee received 3,991 votes or a majority of 1,355 instead of 355. The tabulation in the First Ward, 1st precinct, Sedalia, showed that Mr. Couey received only 22 votes, whereas he received 222 or 117 more than his opponent.

Woman Injured in Car Accident

A 1937 Terraplane, bearing a California state license, occupied by two men, a woman, and two boys aged 16 and 4, went off the pavement on highway 40, about 1000 feet west of 40 and 65 junction about 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

The woman was injured, but it is believed not seriously, and was taken to a hospital in Marshall.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Master Howard Scott, of Smithton, aged 11, underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday evening.

Miss Margaret Winzenberg, Sedalia, Route 2, was admitted for medical treatment.

Mrs. Edward Ray, 911 East Third street, was admitted for surgery.

Miss Virginia Shelley, La Monte had her tonsils taken out.

Louis XV first instigated production of porcelain nationally in France, in order to compete with Dresden ware and china from the Far East.

WILL OF ACCIDENT VICTIM IS FILED

The will of the late N. H. Fisher, who was one of four victims killed in an automobile accident near Dresden Thursday night, was filed in the probate court Saturday.

The deceased stated he wanted two of his ten children, Sam A. and Forrest Fisher, to look after his affairs. Sam was killed in the same accident in which the father met his death.

The will was made June 28, 1938, and at that time Mr. Fisher stated he was not in good health, realized he was going to have to undergo a major operation and wanted to make the will before that took place. The operation was not performed, but death came in another way.

"Could Not Ask For Better And Quicker Results," He Said

KruGon Wasted No Time In Regulating His Digestion; Now Eats and Enjoys Meals Without Gas and Bloating Afterwards; Proper Elimination Given Mr. Klenklen Too With Use of KruGon.

KruGon is not a new medicine, although it is comparatively new to the people of Sedalia and vicinity. This laxative-tonic formula was first introduced to suffering people over three years ago, during which time many hundreds of sufferers have found it to be just what they had been needing for years. For example, read what Mr. Joseph Klenklen, Route No. 1, Pilot Grove, Mo., (just northeast of here), a well known local gentleman, said recently in talking with the KruGon Man who is daily meeting the local public at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city:

MR. JOSEPH KLENKLEN

"My only regret is that I did not know of KruGon many years ago," said Mr. Joseph Klenklen, "My health had not been very good for the past thirty years regarding my digestion. It seemed I would have severe attacks of bloating and gas pains after most every meal. I could not find a diet that would agree with me all of the time and I soon lost my appetite and never had the normal desire for eating. Often the gas would crowd my heart causing it to be so uncomfortable, palpitation was constantly bothering me. I could not get the proper elimination either and my system was accumulating so much poison that about four months ago I was taken with an awful attack in my back. Not being able to get the proper nourishment I grew weak until it was with a great effort that I did anything at all. I had tried many different kinds of medicines but with no good results and when I first learned of KruGon I thought it to be "just another" remedy but was finally convinced to give it a trial . . ."

"At the time I began KruGon little did I expect such completely satisfactory results," continued Mr. Klenklen, "But I was determined to put KruGon to a REAL test so I took it faithfully and reglariy and the results it gave me were just what I had been looking for. My digestion was regulated, bowels are now fine and I can eat and enjoy the foods I want without any ill effects afterwards. All that gas and bloating has left me and that back misery has gone too. I sleep good now, feel fine and would not take anything for what this KruGon has accomplished for me."

The KruGon Man is daily meeting the local public at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this medical discovery.

BIGGEST CROWD AT PARK FOR THE 'KID' AMATEURS

Last In Series of Four Contests Sponsored By Boosters August 12

One of the largest crowd of persons ever to attend a gathering of any kind was on hand to greet "Kids" night on the amateur program in the band stand at Liberty Park, sponsored by the Sedalia Booster Club, Friday evening. Additional 500 chairs and numerous benches were provided and these were all filled some time before the program started. Hundreds stood while many sat in their cars and listened to the program as it came through the loud speakers. It was variously estimated that between 5,000 and 7,000 persons heard the contest.

Forest Lane singing "Texas Plains" accompanying himself with the guitar was first prize winner, Buddy Arnold and Miss Virginia Lee Roberts were awarded second place singing "The Merry Go Round Broke Down." Third place went to Buster Baker singing "Moonlight on the Colorado" accompanied by Miss June Newland and Patty Ann Sullivan was the fourth place winner with a acrobatic dance. So close was the contests that several recounts of the time taken on the numbers were necessary to pick the winner, only 17 seconds difference between the first prize winner and the fourth place winner. The time was taken by the applause of the audience and the judges were M. M. Hayden, foreman in the supply department, F. G. Knerl, foreman of the sheet metal workers, and G. H. Ellis, coach shop foreman.

Talk by Joe Rosenthal

P. R. Nichols, chief Booster, was master of ceremonies and introduced G. T. Callender, superintendent of shops who presented Joe Rosenthal, president of the Chamber of Commerce who made a short talk as did F. T. Mahoney, superintendent of the Eastern Division of the Missouri Pacific of Kansas City, Mo.

As a special added attraction the well known radio entertainers Smiling Dave, Linda Lou and Ruth Virginia of radio station WFMD, Frederick, Maryland, gave a short program following the amateur contest. They are Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Boyer and daughter who are visiting with Mr. Boyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer of this city.

F. L. Hanigan, concluded the program with a short talk and announced the winners who responded with a short number. Those participating in the contest were Junior Howe and Sammie Moore, Dorothy Shepherd, Jimmie Meyers, Velva Lee and Melva Lucille Hamilton, George Dick, Lillian Stansberry, Betty Ann Harrison, Francis Gene Buford, Ann Jo and Evelyn Bellamy, Porche Lee Brown, L. A. Martin, Jr., Elsie Closser and June Newland.

Glenn Pace was in charge of the grounds committee and the Federated Shop Crafts provided 50 members of their crafts to assist in the policing of the grounds, the parking of cars and handling of the traffic and in spite of the expert handling of the traffic under the supervision of Fred Starr and Jim Wootan, Jr., it was over an hour before the park was emptied of cars so large was the crowd.

Another amateur contest, the fourth of the series will be held next Friday evening in the band stand and will be open to all. Everyone is invited to enter the contest and win one of the four prizes offered.

WARNER OLAND 'CHARLIE CHAN' OF THE SCREEN DIES

Passing at Stockholm as Estranged Wife Prepared To Go There

By The Associated Press.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 6.—Warner Oland, the Charlie Chan who escaped a thousand terrible deaths on the screen, died of bronchial pneumonia today in his native Sweden.

When the 57-year-old star of the stage and screen died, his estranged wife, the former Edith Shearn of the stage, was preparing for a hurried trip from here to his bedside.

The end came in a Stockholm hospital after he was removed from the home of Eric Stocklasse, Scandanavian artist and friend of the actor, in Tyreso, near Stockholm.

Mrs. Oland was so overcome by the news she cancelled reservations on airplanes and steamer, made five days ago when she first learned of her husband's illness. She received word only yesterday his condition was critical.

Harrison Ryon, the widow's attorney, said Oland would be buried in the little Swedish town of Umeo, his birthplace, as he requested.

Departure Mysterious

Oland's departure to Sweden more than a month ago was almost as mysterious as were the movements of Author Earl Derr Bigger's famous detective he portrayed.

He had reached a separate maintenance agreement with his wife after her suit filed a year ago, and patched up differences with his Hollywood studio, which temporarily suspended him after an unannounced departure from the set.

Mrs. Oland charged in her suit Oland "so disregarded his duties as a husband that he caused her much mental anguish." She declared excess drinking was the cause of their trouble. As Charlie Chan, she said, he earned $90,000 in 1936.

So convincing were his roles as a Chinese, he was mistaken by Chinese for one of their countrymen on a vacation trip in the Orient.

Oland came to america in 1893 with his father, Jonas Oland, a half Russian, and his brother, Arvid.

Charlie Chan was brought to life on the screen by Oland in 1931 and he made 17 Chan pictures. By a muscular contraction of his eye lids and by brushing the ends of his eyebrows up and his mustache down, he could without makeup, look like an Oriental.

Ruth: Adventurous Faitth

Text: Ruth 1:6-18

By WLLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The story of Ruth is a story of human devotion unexcelled in the annals of literature, sacred or profane.

The story begins with famine, an unusual circumstance in the goodly land of Canaan, but occasioning a serious depression in which Elimelech, a farmer of Bethlehem, decides to go over into the country of Moab across the Jordan in search of better times. With him went his wife, Naomi, and his two sons, Mahlon and Chilion.

The family had not settled long in Moab when Elimelech died, and the two sons marrying Moabite women, the family seemed rooted in the new home. But 10 years later the two sons died, and now Naomi and her two daughters-in-law — Orpah and Ruth—were facing serious times.

Naomi, with her husband and her two sons gone, naturally thought of her old home near Bethlemen, and decided that she would go back. Her daughters-in-law went with her to the border of the country, though she urged them not to go with her but to return to their homes and find new husbands. Orpah, devoted but lacking the intensity of Ruth, kissed her mother-in-law farewell; but Ruth resisted every urging that she should go back, and in the famous words, "Entreat me not to leave thee," journeyed with her mother-in-law to Bethlehem.

Such devotion might have been natural on the part of a daughter toward her mother, or on the part of one of the same environment and race toward a beloved friend, but Ruth's devotion—as that of a daughter-in-law leaving her own home land—is remarkable. It is no wonder that such a firm spirit of devotion has found recognition in the sacred writings of the Jews.

Possibly in the glorification of Ruth there has been a tendency to forget the worth of Naomi. What a marvelous mother-in-law she must have been to evoke such devotion on the part of two women who had married her sons in a strange land! We must realize also that in Ruth's fidelity there must have been something more than merely personal loyalty. She must have sensed in Naomi a quality of faith that led her to embrace the same religion and to share the same ideals.

We need not go into the latter part of the story of how Ruth gleaned in the fields of Bethlehem after the reapers, and found favor in the eyes of a kinsman of her husband, who instructed the reapers to leave a little more than just the blades of wheat that were missed in harvesting. Suffice it to say that the story has a happy ending, and Ruth found some of the rewards of her faith and her fidelity.

It is a story of love and devotion between women, similar to that between men in the Bible story of David and Jonothan, and the story of Damon and Pythias.

FIND DYNAMITE BOMB IN MAKING AN INSPECTION

G. A. Bergfelder Discovers It and Makes Report To Police

A dynamite bomb composed of seven sticks of explosive, percussion cap, fuse and two building bricks was found by a City Light and Traction line foreman just outside the city limits near the railroad spur to the fairgrounds Friday afternoon.

G. A. Bergfelder, 611 East Ninth Street, was inspecting poles along highway 50 west of Sedalia Friday afternoon at one o'clock when he found the bomb.

Bergerfelder said he had dropped into a deep ditch along the road to inspect the ground wires of a pole and when he was about to step out noticed a brown paper bag and idly kicked it. His foot struck the brick.

Wondering what the bag could contain that would be so heavy he looked into it and first thought it was a discarded raido battery.

"When I found it was dynamite," he said, "I called the police."

Chief-of-Police John O'Brien who answered the call took the explosive to police headquarters where it was examined.

There it was found the bomb had been made of two bricks, one lying flat the other on its side. The seven sticks of dynamite were laid into the V formed by the bricks. Into the middle stick a fuse was pushed which police said indicated the firing cap had been inserted making the bomb ready to explode

Around the bricks and dynamite was wrapped a quantity of tire tape.

The officers explained that the bricks had been added to the bomb possibly to add enough weight so that the contrivance could be thrown through a window.

Highway Patrolman Paul E. Corl examined the bomb to determine whether any of the materials in it had been stolen from a WPA project or other works on which explosives had been used. A quantity of fuse had been reported stolen from Rocheport, Mo., officers said, but that on the bomb was not of the same kind.

Dismissed After Hearing

Herbert Webb, colored, charged with assault upon "Dude" Hubbard, another Negro, was given a hearing before Judge Charles W. Bente, Saturday morning and after hearing the evidence, was dismissed. In accordance with the evidence, Judge Bente, stated it was evident that Webb assaulted Hubbard in self defense.

C. R. Bothwell For County Recorder

C. R. (Ross) Bothwell, a member of the pioneer Bothwell family of Sedalia and Pettis county, is the Republican candidate for the office of county recorder, and is asking the support of the voters in the November election.

C. R. Bothwell

Mr. Bothwell scarcely needs an introduction to the people of this community. He attended Robbins Business college in Sedalia in 1908, and started his business career after completing that course. He is now operating a local fire insurance agency and prior to engaging in business for himself, was for fourteen years state agent for a nationally known fire insurance company.

He is married, and with his wife, formerly Miss Patty Bruce, a Pettis countain, and their two sons, resides at 726 West Seventh street.

Mr. Bothwell is a brother of the late C. H. Bothwell. While he has always been interested in Republican politics, he has never sought office, and in asking the support of the voters in the coming election, pledges himself, if elected, to conduct the affairs of the office in a businesslike and efficient manner.

FATHER AND SON INJURED IN FATAL WRECK

George Anderson 42 years old, (left) who is in a critical condition at the Bothwell hospital, suffering from a probable concussion of the brain, received last Thursday night when a Model T Ford tudor sedan driven by Samuel Fisher, was struck by Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 14, at the McConley crossing two miles west of Dresden, at 7:05 o'clock.

Mr. Anderson has been unconscious since the accident.

In the above picture is Mr. Anderson's nine year old son, Jack Anderson, who either jumped or was thrown from the running board of the car when it was struck by the train. The child received bruises about his body and the right ankle was lacerated while the left ankle was bruised and possibly sprained.

Jack in talking with a newspaper reporter from his bed in the Bothwell hospital said, "Dad and I were riding on the right running board, with Mr. Samuel Fisher driving. In the car were Nathan Faulconer, Newton Fisher and Ruth Taylor.

"The first I knew a train was near was when I looked up and saw it coming down the track about that far away (he mentioned the distance across the room and a little farther which was estimated at more than twenty-five feet). I guess I jumped, but I'm not sure, maybe I was thrown out in the road when the train hit.

The four occupants of the car were killed, Newton Fisher, Nathan Faulconer and Miss Taylor were instantly killed, and Samuel Fisher died as he was being placed in an ambulance.

SLAYS FIVE IN FAMILY THEN SELF

By The Associated Press.

NORTON, Kas., Aug. 6.—Powder burns around the forehead wounds that killed a mother and four sons here early today were cited by officers tonight in explaining how the father was able to shoot each of them with a single shot rifle without awakening the others.

The father, George Dobbie, 39, was found dying of a wound in the mouth by a messenger sent to learn why he had not appeared on his job as a tractor operator for the county engineer's office.

His wife, 34, the former Thelma Strickland of Beaver City, Neb., and their four sons, George, Jr., 17; Glen Donald, 15; Raymond, 12, and Floyd Gene, 11, all were dead.

Sheriff G. W. Holland said he believed Dobbie placed the single shot .22 caliber rifle between the eyes of each of his victims, muffling the explosions. The gun was found lying on Dobbie's stomach its barrel pointed toward his mouth. Dobbie died about an hour after he was found. He was unable to make a statement.

The sheriff said he was informed there had been domestic difficulties in the family recently. He said he was told the eldest son, George, Jr., displayed bruised and cut hands to friends last night and said his father had beaten him with a baseball bat.

County Attorney J. C. Tillotson ordered an inquest, but said he wasconvinced Dobbie had killed all five members of his family and himself.

DISTRESS FROM HEAT IN THE EAST

By the Associated Press

Heat and humidity combined yesterday (Saturday) to bring distress to widespread areas, particularly in the east.

Although cooler weather was reported by the Chicago weather bureau in the exereme northern plains, lower Missouri valley and north Atlantic states, the thermometers in most eastern and southern sectors showed readings above normal.

At least thirty deaths had been blamed on high temperatures, humidity, and torrential rains. Eight persons—members of two families—drowned Friday at Sevierville, Tenn., in the wake of rains.

In many localities figures on the percentage of humidity were higher than the temperature readings. By noon the temperature in New York City reached 79 degrees, but the percentage of humidity was 83. Detroit's humidty was 94 per cent, with a noon temperature of 83.

Kansas baked and there was little hope for relief from a heat wave which sent the mercury soaring to 112 on Friday. In Nebraska temperatures tumbled after thunderstorms in the eastern section. Missouri also received temperature relief, and rain was forecast.

VITAL BLOW TO CHINA'S AIR FORCE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Japanese navy announced today its air force had struck a "fatal blow" at China's aerial defenes at Hankow, provisional capital in the heart of central China.

Japanese said an air raid Saturday destroyed 15 Chinese planes on the ground at Hankow, and wiped out numerous airdrome buildings and fuel and ammunition warehouses.

The Japanese asserted further navy fliers raided many widely-separated military establishments throughout the lower Yangtze river valley, and Japanese warships had fought their way up the river to within 110 miles of Hankow.

CORRIGAN REVIEWS "FIGHTING IRISH"

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. — Still wearing his oil-smeared brown leather jacket, Douglas Corrigan forgot his slight chest injury today and motored to Camp Smith at Peekskill, N. Y., to review the "Fighting Irish" of the famous old 69th infantry regiment.

The 31-year-old aviator, who set his compass for California and landed in Dublin, Ireland, in his $900 "old crate," reached the review field 25 minutes late—and the Irish luck which spirited his plane safely across the Atlantic served him again. Had he been on time, he would have arrived in the midst of a torrential rain. The weather cleared and, just as he finished the review, the skies again blackned and dropped another deluge.

After the review, he returned to New York to rest a bit before attending a testimonial dinner sponsored by the Dublin Society of New York.

The flier today received a telephone call from Mayor LeGuardia who expressed regret at Corrigan's chest injury and invited him to be his guest again when he returns Thursday from visits to Boston, Newark, Baltimore and Washington, D. C.

Somehow in the crush of wild-cheering thousands during yesterday's parade and reception Corrigan suffered his injury, diagnosed as a torn cartilage.

MORE COUNTIES IN TENANT PURCHASE

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 6.—Eleven additional counties have been selected to participate in the Farm Security Administration's tenant purchase program for the coming year, according to word received by State FSA Director Nicholson from the Regional Office at Indianapolis, Ind.

The counties named are Daviess, Howell, Nodaway, Linn, Polk, Crawford, Stoddard, Johnson, Audrain, Miller and Monroe. They were selected by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace on the basis of farm population, prevalency of tenancy, farming conditions and geographical distribution.

The current selection brings the total of eligible counties in the state up to nineteen since eight were chosen for last year's program. Nicholson explained that loans will be made both in the counties selected for last year's operation as well as those just named. Counties formerly selected are St. Charles, Shelby, DeKalb, Howard, Bates, Newton, Texas and Pemiscit.

"Missouri's share of the current 25 million dollar appropriation for tenant loans is $790,395," Nicholson said. "This amount will be divided among the selected counties in amounts estimated to be sufficient for between five and ten loans to the county."

He went on to say that the tenant purchase program, provided for under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, authorizes the making of long-time loans to qualified farm tenants for the purchase of farms. Last year's appropriations for loans prior to June 30, 1938, amounted to $10,000,000. Congress voted a $25,000,000 appropriation for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1939.

Farm Security Administration Supervisors in the counties namwill be authorized to accept applications just as soon as final arrangements have been completed, the State Director said.

Earlier, Mr. Roosevelt praised officials of the Panama Canal zone in a message to Governor Clarence S. Ridley and commanders of the defense forces.

FIFTEEN MORE DAYS FOR HUNTING DUCKS

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 6—(AP)—New federal regulations will permit Missouri hunters fifteen more days to hunt ducks and geese than were allowed last year, the state conservation commission announced today.

The federally prescribed open season is from Oct. 15 to Nov. 28. While Missouri waterfowl regulations do not coincide with the federal season, the commission explained, the federal regulations take precedence.

The number of ducks allowed in a hunter's possession is also increased by the federal rules to two bags of 10 birds each instead of one bag of 10. However, the restriction on one day's kill was continued at 10, and the shooting hours will remain the same, 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. No live decoys will be permitted.

Another change permits limited shooting of canvasback, ruddy, redhead and bufflehead ducks. All of which were fully protected the last two seasons. Three of these species are now permitted in a day's kill and six may be in a hunter's possession.

Easing of restrictions was attributed to an increase in ducks during the strict control of the last few years and to improved condition of breeding grounds.

NAME REFEREE FOR MOTORCYCLE RACES

Herman Fischer, motorcycle officer, has been appointed an official motorcycle race referee by the American Motorcycle Association, according to word received by Mr. Fischer the past week, and he will be the official in charge of the first Tourist Trophy race held in Pettis county under the sponsorship of the Sedalia Motorcycle Club and the Sedalia Junior Police Association.

These races will be staged in the new motorcycle park of the club, six miles north of Sedalia on highway 65, on Sunday afternoon, August 14.

The committee in charge of arrangements has boosted the prize money from $100 to $125 due to the many entries which have been received in the past week. To date more than fifty motorcyclists have returned their entry blanks, and indicate a large attendance from their respective cities.

Entries have been received from the following places: Kansas City; Kansas City, Kas., Springfield, Columbia, Jefferson City, Lexington, St. Joseph, Atchison, Kas., Independence.

The time trials will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue until afternoon. The official races will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

Road markers are being placed along highway 65 from Sedalia to direct those desiring to attend the races.

WINS PLANTATION ON 144 HOLE OF GOLF

CHICAGO, Aug. 6 —(AP)— J. Smith Ferebee, footsore, weary and slowed down to a walk, won his wager of $2,500 in cash and a half-interest in a Virginia plantation Friday over Olympia Fields' rugged acres today by playing 144 holes of golf between sunup and darkness, with no 18 hole round of more than 90 strokes.

Ferebee, wiry, blond golfer-broker, set out on one of golf's strangest matches at 5:05 (CDT) that morning, to settle an argument with Fred Tuerk, another brother, with whom he shared interest in a $30,000 plantation in Princess Anne county, Virginia.

A dispute had arisen over management of the land, and Ferebee who had played 90 holes one day recently, offered to settle it by playing 144 holes between dawn and darkness, with no round over 95 strokes, or forfeit his share.

Tuerk accepted and bets totaling $2,500 grew out of the plan.

VANDER MEER WON'T HAVE PARK NAMED AFTER HIM

By The Associated Press.

MIDLAND PARK, N. J., Aug. 6.—Johnny Vander Meer of no-hit, no-run fame has come up with another "no" that apparently has halted a move to build a park in his honor in his home town.

"No soap," was his comment on a Vander Meer park proposal of local hero-worshippers. "I don't want to be pointed out as the guy who keeps the tax rate up 30 or 40 cents for the upkeep of a park named after me," he told a close friend. "And perhaps that might happen after I've hung up my glove in a few years."

Central Missouri Softball Tournament Here on August 9

TEN TEAMS WILL BATTLE FOR THE DISTRICT TITLE

Boosters, Stewart Avenue, Adcos, and Clothiers Entered

SPONSORED BY CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Sedalia League Advisors Prepare Drawings for Opener Tuesday

The Central Missouri Softball District Tournament will be played in Sedalia and ten teams have been entered. The winner of the tournament will play in the state tournament to be held in St. Joseph, Mo. The district tournament dates are Tuesday, August 9; Wednesday, August 10; Friday, August 12; with the finals being played on Tuesday, August 16.

Four teams are entered in the tourney from Sedalia, two from Marshall, one from Rice-Stix, of Slater, Sweet Springs, Cole Camp and Calhoun.

Drawings were prapared and completed Saturday by Forrest Drake and Kenneth Rabb, who have been more-or-less advisors to the City Softball league, which league is sponsoring the district tournament.

On Tuesday night the Rice-Stix team will do battle with the Cole Camp softball team; Calhoun will meet the Stewart Avenue Marketeers of Sedalia in the second game of the evening.

The Missouri Pacific Boosters, Adco Chemists, Sweet Springs, M. F. A. of Marshall, Red Cross Pharmacy of Marshall, and Rosenthal Clothiers all drew byes, for the first round, however, the bracket brings together the following teams on Wednesday night: Sweet Springs and the M. F. A. club.

Boosters-Rice-Stix Game

The second game of the Wednesday night program will be the Missouri Pacific Boosters meeting the winner of the Rice-Stix game.

Friday night Adco Chemists and the Red Cross Pharmacy team will meet; while the second game of that night will be between the Rosenthal Clothiers and the winner of the Calhoun and Marketeers contest.

Much time and work has been put in by Drake and Rabb in making the district tournament a success. Plenty of cooperation has been shown on the part of the four teams entered in the competition.

Little is known in Sedalia of Sweet Springs, Calhoun, Cole Camp and Rice-Stix, other than all teams have been playing exceptionally good ball this season and are out to give their opponents plenty of opposition.

Red Cross A Threat

Although the Red Cross team was eliminated in the Marshall invitational tourney last week by Rosenthal's, they are expected to be right along with the Marshall M. F. A. club in battling out for the championship. Local ball players who have played against the Red Cross team respect the regular pitcher of that club, and this alone was given as one of the main factors in their being removed from the tourney competition last week.

The Slater aggregation has plenty of pep and fight and are hoping to be in the finals.

As a matter of fact Sweet Springs, Cole Camp, and Calhoun are not to be overlooked as stiff competition as they are preparing their teams to be ready for championship fight.

The third place position will be decided by the two teams who lose in the semi-finals. This game will be played on the night of the championship game, Tuesday, August 16.

NEW YORK TENNIS TITLE TO RIGGS

By The Associated Press.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. Bobby Riggs of Chicago, America's second ranking tennis player, dealt a crushing blow to Sidney Wood's comeback campaign today when he beat the New Yorker, 6-0, 6-3, 7-5, in the final of the 48th annual Meadow Club invitation tennis tournament. The victory gave Riggs his second leg on the Meadow Club bowl.

The young Chicagoan also took another long step toward clinching the No. 2 singles berth on the United States Davis Cup team. Before the match he and Wood were recognized as two of the outstanding candidates.

The doubles final produced an upset when Frank Kovacs and Bobby Harman of Oakland, Calif. who beat Wood and Joe Hunt in the match that started the argument yesterday, overcame Frank Guernsey, Jr., of Orlando, Fla., and Russell Bobbitt at Atlanta, 1-6, 9-7, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.

TO PLAY CHAMPIONSHIP TODAY

Charles G. Wilson, left, former golf champion of the Sedalia Country Club this afternoon will play John Martin, right, 1936 runner-up for the Club Championship. The players will start the first eighteen holes at 9 o'clock and the second eighteen at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

C. G. WILSON AND JOHN MARTIN MEET FOR SEDADLIA GOLF TITLE

Martin 1938 Runner-up; Wilson Many Times Club Champion

The championship of the Sedalia Country Club will be decided today when thirty-six holes will be played by Charles G. Wilson, many times champion and John Martin, runner up of the 1936 tournament, will match golf wits.

Martin has been a constant player through the entire championship flight and if his playing and "luck" holds out, 'Champ' Wilson had better watch out else he will be classed as a "runner-up".

Wilson has many times won the club championship but has laid out of the play on numerous occasions in the past few years, only to return and take over the crown.

Last week in the semi-finals Wilson defeated Damon Hieronymus 8 up 7, to give Hieronymus one of the worse beatings administered in the tournament. Hieronymus in this match endeavored to play Wilson's style, by slowing up and it proved very costly.

Martin matched against E. M. Stafford Jr., club champion in 1937, played a steady game to win 6 up 4.

In the Class A flight the championship was won Saturday by Heber U. Hunt, who defeated Paul Byron 3 up 2. "Jumping Jack" Hunt in the semi-finals edged out Dr. F. R. Morley 7 up 5; while Byron in the semi-finals eliminated Arthur Scott 1 up 18.

The class B tournament likewise is coming along fast and several good games were turned in. Dr. W. E. Pearl defeated Cecil Young 5 up 4; Clint H. Davis defeated G. A. Sturges in one of the hardest fought matches winning 1 up.

The finals of Class B will probably be played today or the coming week.

Martin and Wilson will start the first eighteen holes of the 36-hole match at 9 o'clock this morning. The second eighteen will be fought in the afternoon starting at 1 o'clock.

Norman Scotten, club pro, announced the public interested in watching the matches are invited to accompany the players in a gallery.

REMOVE COCHRANE AS MANAGER OF DETROIT TIGERS

Owner Briggs Makes Announcement After A Conference

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Walter O. Briggs, Sr., owner of the Detroit Tigers, announced tonight Gordon Stanley (Mickey) Cochrane no longer is manager of the American League club.

Del Baker, coach who has been in charge of the club at times when Cochrane has been incapicitated, will complete the season as manager, Briggs said.

Cochrane will be paid for the remainder of the present year, the club president added.

Briggs said he and Mickey conferred today and "it was agreed he would no longer continue his connection with the Detroit Baseball Company."

Regrets Change

"I regret sincerely, the owner continued, "the termination of our baseball relationship, both from a personal standpoint and because of the contribution which Mickey Cochrane made to Detroit and the club when he came here as manager and catcher five years ago.

"But it seems apparent to both of us that for the good of the club, and in justice to the supporting fans, a change should be made. My son (Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., club secretary) and I wish him every success in his future plans; and we pledge to the Tiger team and to the baseball fans the best efforts of the club management to procure for the team satisfactory baseball leadership."

In 1934 and 1935, Cochrane's first and second seasons with the Tigers, they won the American League pennant and in 1935 added the world championship.

Injured Last Year

Subsequently Black Mike was handicapped by a recurring illness and this was climaxed by suffering a fractured skull in May, 1937, when he was accidentally hit by a pitched ball in the Yankee Stadium at New York.

Since then Mickey has not played in a regularly-scheduled game and has managed the team from the bench. Only recently he obtained permission from the elder Briggs to resume catching, but did not act upon that authorization.

This year the team has made a poor showing and at present is in the second division.

"In view of the change in our managership," President Briggs said, "it is only fitting that Del Baker, who carried on during 1936 and 1937 with such good results when Mickey Cochrane was incapicitated, should be offered the club management.

"We have done this, and we are glad to announce that he has accepted. He will have complete charge of the club and we promise him the full support of the entire organization."

SCRUTON'S

SPORT SCRAPS

SINGLES—DOUBLES—TRIPLES

Its a fact that everyone who has been hearing the rumor the old-timers of the Sedalia Athletics are desiring to show their 1938 wares against their old wares of 1919 and so on at least that is the report of Potts Evans, now playing manager of the Sedalia A's.

Several Sunday's ago yours truly carried a piece about—the "Old Timers"—on the Liberty Park ball diamond. To this bit of information numerous queries have reached the ears of the sports department, as to—when are they to play—are you sure they will play—It should be great—and so on.

Manager Evans informed the sports writer Saturday he has contacted practically every player mentioned with the exception of Van Tappin and Pat Mason, but feels sure they will accept if the remainder of the—"Old Gang"—so desires.

As per reference to the—"Old Timers"—we cast no reflection on the players, but have it for yourself they played plenty good and hard baseball back in 1919-20-21-22 and were classed as the strongest semi-pro ball club in these parts.

Again we name the boys over—Van Tappin and Mason we have already mentioned but here comes those who have agreed to display the early 20's baseball playing—McCarthy, Kirchofer, Dillard, Ehret, Walt Weedin, Schwenk—of course "Potts" will have to be at first.

The date is to be selected as soon as every player has been contacted, now the question is—shall it be a night game or shall it be a Sunday afternoon affair—fans are requested to indicate the time of day they most desire to see these boys in action.

As long as it is—"Old Timers—we are discussing, we shall go back, but not too far back in football players, some of Sedalia's beaming stars, Joe Dorsey, John Van Dyne, the McGurren brothers (Sammy and Danny), "Slick" Clem Fisher, Jr. "Luke" Hyatt, Lee Dow, Paul Edwards, Leonard Dowdy, Dick Van Dyne —more recent—Paul Evans, Jack Reuter, Dick Hayes and John Joe McGrath.

Some of these football players have made indications of giving to Sedalia a semi-pro football team to meet Slater, Marshall, Jefferson City, and any other semi-pro team who desires to do battle with the "Old Time Tigers".

A little help will be needed by the boys in the way of football equipment, and like other towns desire to play Sunday afternoon football. Any suggestions as to getting the team on the go will be welcomed by Joe Dorsey—who seems to be more interested than anyone in getting the gang together.

As the writer is dashing off the remarks about—"'Old Time"—football players, the usual looking over the shoulder reader—appeared and took a look. O. B. Poundstone, who took his football training in a three year course at the old Hill's Business College, then later obtained education at the University of Missouri where he saw action in football remarked, upon being questioned if he desired to get into the game, this—If Mel Ilgenfritz will don a football uniform and play, so will I—a nice challenge to an old timer.

So it appears "Mel" as all his friends know him played with Wentworth back in the years when football was football and no foolin'. "Mel" also played with a pickup team called the "All-Stars" from Sedalia in which Poundstone was his teammate.

A beating was being given the "All-Stars" by the Wenthworth Military Academy, and late in the game someone turned around and found one of the players "benching it." That left only ten players. To begin with there was the allowed amount of eleven, but eleven was all that could be gathered to make the "All-Stars."

If "Mel" and "O. B." play maybe they can secure the services of our friend Dan Nee, United States Internal Collector at Kansas City, who likewise played in the "good old days."

Speaking of football, Coach Donald Davenport, who has been spending the summer at Columbia brushing up—is expected back in Sedalia the latter part of the month in time to get his recruits together and have a lookover before getting ready for the 1938 high school football season.

This year the team will be—every man for himself—may the best shower get on the lineup.

Under the new "set-up" Sedalia will make it's entry in the new formed conference in which Hannibal, Columbia, Jefferson City, Mexico Military Academy, and Sedalia will participate. A better conference could not have been arranged as to the class of schools each represents.

Don Salmon, business manager of the Sedalia A's the past few days has found gray hairs in his head—worry over the financial condition of the local ball club.

To date the Sedalia A's have been pulling the cork on the red ink to the tune of $132, losses created because of Night Baseball games—hence there shall be NO MORE NIGHT BASEBALL—at least at the present until something can be found to make it a paying proposition.

However the A's will continue at the present with their regular Sunday afternoon games and bring to Sedalia high class baseball clubs.

Editor's message:—What's the suggestion Harry Hotsenpiller, can the night baseball be made a paying proposition for at LEAST ONE GAME? DO YOU believe the Smithton Athletics can save the day?

COLLEGE TEAMS SOON TO START FOOTBALL WORK

Few Highlights Among the Missouri Coaches and Players

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 6.—(AP)—It costs money to stock the wardrobe of a college football player for the fall campaign. Assembling equipment for the squad of 70 to 80 players annually reporting at Kirksville Teachers College, Coaches Bud Svendsen and Mal Eiken have found the per capita cost of the 1938 campaign $52.60. Here is what the Bulldog will wear this fall, and the cost:

Game pants, $7; practice pants, $4; game jersey $5; supporter, 40c; shoes, $9; headgear, $8.50; undershirt, 60c; thigh guards, $2; shoulder pads $8.50; hip pads, $6.50; socks, 60c; mud cleats, 60c.

Homer (Red) Leech, Missouri Valley grid star in 1936, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Huston, Deepwater, Mo., have announced they will be married August 21. Leech is coach at Odessa, Mo., high school . . . Some of Warrensburg Teachers' National Collegiate tourney winning cagers also are doing okey in baseball this summer. Al Schirk, sharp-shooting forward, turned in an 11-5 mound triumph over Odessa the other day and Jimmy Gibbs clouted a homer with two on base . . . Bill Friesz, the Kirksville Teachers blocking back, had a spinal operation this summer isn't healing as rapidly as expected. He may not be able to play this fall . . . Ralph Kirn, Cape Girardeau track star, is to coach this fall at Hillsboro. . . . Lawrence Green of Christopher, Ill., who lettered four years at end in high school and made the all-conference team last fall, is headquartering at Cape preparatory to joining the M. I. A. A. champion grid squad this fall.

There may be good news for the basketball coach at Westminster College, Fulton, in the announcement that the limit on freshman students has been extended from 130-140. The more enrollment the greater the choice of athletes . . . By the way, Alf Elliott, former Westminster golfing ace, is still breaking county club records at Mexico, Mo. He shot a 68 for 18 holes the other day, four under par . . . Ed Molitoris, Maryville Teachers co-captain and all-MIAA tackle, is attending the school's summer session . . . So is Clifton Cox, end . . . Harry Irvine, tackle, is working on a campus construction job . . . Hildreth Moody, the Kirksville halfback, is getting in condition for the fall campaign on the home farm near Palmyra.

Fred Strum, 190-pounder who played at Alabama last fall, is slated as a regular halfback for Cape Girardeau this fall . . . With Marion Nothdurft, 6-foot-5 basketball player from Jackson catching passes on one end and Virgil Popp of Perryville, probably the best defensive end in the M. I. A. A. at the opposite extremity, Cape isn't worrying about wingmen . . . Jimmy Obermiller, ex-Cape fullback, and Harold Kiehne, end, are team mates again this summer on a Jackson softball club. Obermiller will teach at Sedalia this fall and Kiehne at Advance.

James Seeley, former Maryville tackle who has been coaching at Cameron the past two years, returns to Maryville this fall as coach at the high school . . . Delbert Maddox, assistant football coach at the University of Missouri the past year, will tutor the Memphis, Mo., high school athletes 1938-39 . . . Payne Muir of Jefferson City, former La Plata coach is assistant Boy Scout director at Council Bluffs, Ia., this summer.

SOFTBALLERS FROM HERE "STEAL SHOW"

The "show" at the Marshall Invitational Softball tournament, has been "stolen" by the Sedalia softball teams. Three of Sedalia's teams went to the semi-finals and the finals are now being taken over by two of those teams.

Monday night at Marshall the Missouri Pacific Boosters will play the Sedalia Adco baseball club. These two teams always do battle when they meet and this can be vouched for by the scores of their games in the Sedalia Softball league.

Friday night the Boosters defeated the Hummer Mills of Slater by a 3 to 0 score, Hayes doing fine work in his shutout contest, is not to be overlooked in his refusing to give the Mills of Slater, a hit.

The Boosters had one error while the Slater team was marked up with six. Hayes also sent ten men out the strikeout route.

The Adco Chemists put the Rosenthal Clothiers out of the running by defeating them in a shutout contest 3 to 0. It was a well played game and the work of "Speedball" Hyatt was too much for the Clothiers.

Hyatt allowed but two hits, while the Chemists collected four hits off Beuckie and Alpert.

As to errors, the Chemists were nil while the Rosenthals had three.

ARMSTRONG TRIES FOR THIRD RING TITLE THIS WEEK

Already Holds Welter and Feather Crowns; Meets Lou Ambers

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Little Henry Armstrong, the brown dynamo from the Pacific slope, goes shooting next week for something no boxer has ever attained—a third major ring title in less than a year.

Last October, after a sensational charge to the top through the trial horses, Henry belted out game little Petie Sarron of Birmingham to become undisputed featherweight champion of the world.

Exactly seven months later to the day he made a quick raid into the welterweight division to wear down a stout-hearted but bleeding Barney Ross and annex the 147-pound title. Lou Ambers and his lightweight crown are next on the list.

Odds Shorten

Armstrong, hailed as the outstanding fighter of 1937, was a 3 to 1 favorite at the start, but the best you could do along Broadway today was 13 to 5.

Ambers, the "Herkimer hurricane" is looking himself again after a so-so campaign on the Pacific coast. And during the last few days a flood of Ambers money has poured into Broadway. Nobody knows where it's coming from, but it's there. Those who have it insist on odds, but they're settling for 2½ to 1.

From the standpoint of Mike Jacobs, the promoter, the bout likely will prove a flop. Jacobs needs $60,000 to break even and right now the advance sales are a long way from that mark.

Styles Unorthodox

Armtrong is the betting choice but most smart fight men around town think Ambers is just the chap to give the Negro the sternest test of his life. Ambers, whose style is as unorthodox as Armstrong's throws a lot of leather. His punches are not stiff enough to knock fellows out, but over a long distance he can wear them down.

Over at Summit, N. J., Lou has been showing superb form. His speed, boxing ability and the knack of shooting punches from all angles and directions have his supporters all hopped up.

Armstrong has been pretty much of a puzzle. He even hit a lot harder than the lightweight king, if not as often, and he has the speed and endurance to carry on. But until Thursday the brown boy's training camp showing was so poor as to be almost pathetic.

In his last two drills Armstrong has been his old self. He seems to have snapped out of whatever it was that was bothering him—slow advances sales, or what.

HIGGINSVILLE PLAYS SEDALIA AT PARK TODAY

Christian to Be Athletics' Hurler; Overfelt Behind the Plate

The Sedalia A's this afternoon will play the Higginsville baseball club which team was defeated by Sedalia about a week and a half ago in one of the best games of the season, after the first two innings had been made.

The Higginsville team "blew-up" in the second inning of that game and seven runs were gathered by the A's, but after Hoffman, who made a very favorable showing, only one run was made. Probably had Hoffman started the game and carried on it would have been a 1-0 score.

It will be Christian's time on the mound for the A's and he will be opposed by Hoffman. Overfelt will catch Christian, while the receiver for the visiting club has not been definitely decided upon.

Manager Potts Evans announced a shift in his lineup would be made, but as yet has made no definite decision on the matter. Never-the-less he will not make any drastic change which would endager the A's chances of winning their second game over Higginsville.

Hoffman, the visiting twirler is a Ban Johnson product and the experience gained while playing in the Ban Johnson league, has made him one of the best semi-pro pitchers to do mound duty in Sedalia, outside of Sedalia's own, Christian and Horner.

The game will be called promptly at 2:45 o'clock.

The A's will take a week off on Sunday August 21, due to the Missouri State Fair starting that week, and the program at the fair grounds should be such that local fans would probably prefer attending the automobile races.

DIXCELS PLAY AT RICHMOND TODAY

The Dixcel Oilers this afternoon will play the Richmond Merchants at Richmond. Although the Dixcel team has been in slump, they have been working out every day the past week improving on both the offensive and defensive playing.

Sullivan will be on the mound for the Oilers and the following players will make the trip: Simon who will catch, McFatrich first base, Barge second base, Walker shortstop, Harlan third base, Knoop left field, Taylor center field, Kaullen right field, Heerman, Manager and utility. Paul Mines will be ready for relief duty on the mound.

HOMEMAKERS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Berry, Route 4, was the scene of the annual August picnic held by the Sunnyside Homemakers and families, Wednesday.

The lovely lawn and porch were lighted and with tables placed about the home, presented a beautiful picture.

As the date was near August 4th, the program chairman arranged a program in keeping with Emancipation thoughts. In presenting the program Mrs. Guy Berry remarked that the program was a gesture of friendliness and fellowship that should exist at all time between races. She also expressed appreciation for a man of Abraham Lincoln's type, who had the moral courage to banish the menace of slavery from our land so that all could enjoy life, liberty and happiness.

Dr. A. R. Maddox, colored physician, was introduced and spoke of the progress made by the colored race in the different professions, and closed by saying they did not ask social equality but were striving to gain the respect of the white race. Dr. Maddox's talk was well received.

Following his remarks the doctor presented a male quartette from the colored church. Many beautiful numbers were sung by the quartette.

Mrs. L. G. Berry gave a reading entitled, "Father Abraham's Messenger." Mrs. John Fowler also read "Good 'Postle Paul." Both were well received. A chain letter was written during the evening by the members to W. P. Tucker, who is in the Missouri Pacific hospital, St. Louis.

After the program the members joined in playing games.

Shower Tendered Mrs. H. W. Peace

The women of the Smithton Christian church met at the home of Mrs. H. S. Ramseyer Thursday afternoon for a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. H. W. Peace nee Miss Alberta Starke. 'DOLLAR DIPLOMACY' AGAINST NAZIS

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Great Britain and France are strengthening their diplomacy with hard cash to combat Nazi Germany's economic advance down the Danube through southeast Europe.

Europe's brand of "dollar diplomacy" today quickened with developments in three spheres tied closely with the Berlin-Rome trade system:

1. A British trade delegation arrived in Bucharest for trade talks designed to bring King Carol into closer British commercial cooperation.

2. Bulgaria — brought into the widening circle of London and Paris sway by a British-French loan of 375,000,000 francs ($10,357,500) mainly for rearmament—may receive even more money from Britain than that granted August 5.

3. Belgrade reports indicated Premier Mussolini's conomic ally, Yugoslavia, may be weakening before the temptation of British and French financial facilities.

The new moves followed Brittin's successful 16,000,000 pounds ($80,000,000) loan and credits July 4 to Turkey—Europe's Balkan outpost whose friendship may be vital to either side in any future war through control of the entrance to the Black Sea and the eastern Mediterranean.

CHARGES DRIVE FOR POLITICAL CONTROL

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Chairman Glenn Frank of the Republican program committee tonight accused the Roosevelt administration of "persistent undermining of economic leadership in its drive for a political monopoly of our economic life."

He asserted in a radio (NBC) address the American people must answer with their ballots four questions which he said were posed by the administration.

Frank, in amplifying the committee's report yesterday of its progress after a five-day forum on social and economic problems, said the committee's work had convinced its members that answers must be speedily found for these questions.

"1. Shall we retain and perfect representative self-government, in the American tradition, or shall we, in the newer European tradition, shift virtually all power to the federal government x x x and henceforth trust for progress to the decisions of an unduly centralized authority?

"2. Shall we carry on our economic life under a system of free enterprise (adequately regulated to prevent abuse x x x or shall we turn to a politically planned economy dominated and controlled from Washington?

"3. Shall we take full human advantage of the plenty we are equipped to prodcce, or shall we legislate a retreat to an age of scarcity x x x ?

"4. Shall we maintain the bill of rights tradition of free speech, free press, free assembly, right of petition, and guaranty of unreasonable search and seizure or shall we assume that the liquidation of oppositions, freely practised elsewhere, is a new ethics of American politics and that, once we put an administration in power, it becomes social treason not to beat the drums for its every policy?"

RESTORATION OF TWO-THIRDS RULE IS A POSSIBILITY

Probably Be Tried If President Stands For Third Term

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. — A proposal to restore the two-thirds rule in the 1940 Democratic convention may become a rallying point for anti-administration Democrats if President Roosevelt stands for a third term.

A group of southern politicians is already calculating the chances of winning enough northern support in 1940 to restore the rule, which once gave the "solid south" an effective veto power in party councils.

The same group formed a bloc in the last congress against some of the President's key legislative proposals.

Under the two-thirds rule, scrapped in 1932 when Mr. Roosevelt was nominated, no candidate could win the Democratic presidential nomination without a two-thirds convention vote. The South had more than a third of the delegates and thus could withhold the nomination from anyone it opposed. Without the rule a simple majority has the power to choose the party's candidate.

Some of the politicians considering anti-third-term tactics said today it might be possible to obatin a majority for the rule even though a majority of the convention would vote to renominate the President.

Appeal To South

The rule would appeal, they predicted, to the south, to delegations supporting "favorite son" candidates and to delegates who would like to oppose the President without voting directly against him.

These politicians declined to be quoted by name until, they said, the President had disclosed his intentions definitely.

Mr. Roosevelt's best known statement on the question thus far was made at a Democratic banquet March 4, 1937, when he said:

"My great ambition on Jan. 20, 1941, is to turn over this desk and chair in the White House to my successor, whoever he may be, with the assurance that I am at the same time turning over to him as President a nation intact."

Speculation over the President's intentions has provided major conversational fare for politicians here this summer.

Charles Michelson, the Democratic party's publicity director, joined the discussion today, saying in his weekly column.:

"My guess is that Franklin D. Roosevelt would take a case of the hives rather than four years more of the headache that being president means."

He was replying to Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), who said he expected the President to try for a third term—and fail to get it.

TODAY'S PATTERN

Lovely Dirndl in a New Dressy Summer Version

By CAROL DAY

Wear this dressier version of the popular dirndl with your big hat and pumps when you want to look particularly cool—and appealing, too.

The square neckline has a slightly irregular cut that makes it more becoming. The corselette effect in front gives you a tiny, tiny waist, and the skirt flares and ripples with characteristic dirndl generosity.

For Pattern 8279, choose dotted Swiss, organdy dimity or old-fashioned mull, and trim it with black velvet ribbon if you plan to wear it for afternoons.

If you want a sturdier version, calico, percale and gingham are best, with braid or bias fold to trim. Why not make it up both ways? The pattern is easy to work, for it includes a detailed sew chart.

Pattern 8279 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 1-4 yards of 35inch material; 10 yards of ribbon or braid to trim.

WORK AHEAD FOR SEDALIA BUILDERS

Sedalia skilled mechanics among the union building crafts will be furnished with plenty of work according to representatives of the various crafts who met in Warrensburg last Tuesday with a government representative and discussed wage scale on skilled mechanics and laborers, to be used on two large buildings for the Central Missouri State Teachers college.

It was indicated the work will require nearly two years and will give employment to between 100 and 200 Sedalia men.

The labor class will be furnished by Warrensburg and if enough such employment can not be obtained then laborers from Sedalia will be used. It was indicated this would mean work for several Sedalians. The scale turned in on this class of work was fifty cents per hour.

Sedalians who attended the meeting were W. C. Cramer, bricklayers; "Bill" Shaw of the Carpenters; Everett White of the Painters; William Gibbs of Plasterers, and the wage scale of the other crafts were turned in by these representatives.

One of the buildings will be faced with stone being removed from the old Jackson county court house in Kansas City which is being torn down. The old court house had sand stone facing very similar to other buildings on the teacher college campus.

Repairs to the approaches to and rehabilitation of rural route boxes will not only facilitate and expedite the collection and delivery of mail on rural routes, but will also enhance the beauty of the State Highways, Jackson stated.

• RAISING A FAMILY

RESPONSIBILITY IS GOOD FOR A CHILD

It would be a lovely life, we think, just to lie about and have nothing to do. How perfect to wake to a day of relaxed drifting.

This is the still, silent wish deeply imbedded in every human heart. I believe that laziness is natural to man.

But let's put the real facts on the side for observation. Work is necessary. From the day that the first man had to hustle up a tree to keep from being devoured by one of the early monsters, he knew that effort was needed for life. And of course there was food to rustle and shelter to provide.

There is born in every person, I am sure, the inherited conflicts between need, meaning work, and his natural preference for leisure, said leisure being a throw-back to pre-natal influence.

Do you see then, mother dear, what a real battle it is to learn to work and like it?

Child Avoids "Time", "Duty"

The little child certainly does not want to loaf and dream, and is normally as busy with his affairs as a dancing mouse, but hark to this, please. His impulse is only to do what the moment brings to mind. He avoids the coercion of time or duty.

Parents and instructors make the most of this "interest" attitude and divert it into responsibility channels. This is wise and necessary. However, as childhood advances, there comes a time when there can be no blend between wanting to do and having to do. Every child must learn that there are tasks that must be done because they have to be done and for no other reason.

Children of all ages and kinds should be given the makings of responsibility early. By "given" I mean opportunities created to instill from the start the habit of striving. School is not enough. It sets aside too many other things when accepted as a sole responsibility. Each child should learn to help self, help family and help others

I must repeat again the fact that children need much play time and also free time to be themselves; but the bitter tea of life is not all sugared. The earlier a youngster learns to like the taste of the mixed brew, the more he will relish its tang.

The Veterinaries' Activities Are Important to Human Health

Just as scientific medicine is learning today that it is impossible to separate the human being from his heredity and environment, so also we learn that animals which live with man and on which man lives are extremely important in relationship to human health.

Such diseases as undulant fever, tularemia, plague, malaria, hookworm, and other infestations of man are examples of conditions in animals which may be communicated to the human being.

In the study of animals and animal diseases, the veterinary of today is a medical specialist. A good modern education for a veterinary includes high school graduation, at least one year of college education. and four years of education in a veterinary medical school before he is equipped to practice.

Many veterinaries then enter the service of the government in the bureau of animal industry or of the various states. In such a position they aid human beings by inspecting animals which are used for food or which provide food materials.

* * *

Today the veterinary is a specialist not only in certain types of animals, but also in certain types of disease as they affect animals.

The veterinary profession seems to be divided into two groups—one which is the inspecting group associated with the function of disease prevention that has already been mentioned, and the other a highly specialized profession which is concerned with the care of small animals kept largely as pets.

These latter practitioners are in many instances associated with hospitals for the care of pets, and many of them practice veterinary medicine exactly as it is practiced by leading specialists in the human medical field.

The modern veterinary makes on the sick dog or cat all of the same tests that are used by the physician in making diagnoses of diseases in human beings. The X-ray is used. There are tests of the blood and of the urine and all of the other secretions and excretions of the body. Such services are expensive, but the owner of a race horse, representing a cash investment of tens of thousands of dollars, or the proud owner of a prize Pekinese, will not hesitate to pay what is necessary to secure individualized specialistic attention for the sick pet.

Indeed, the veterinary will insist on individualization of his patient for treatment, exactly as the modern physician insists on individualization of his patient in order to secure the best possible results.

The stamp, which will be printed in olive, will go on sale at Washington, D. C., Aug. 11, and in other postoffices of the country as soon as possible.

* * *

The 3-cent stamp commemorating the centennial of the establishment of the Iowa Territory will be placed on first-day sale at Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 24. It will be .84 by 1.44 inches, arranged horizontally, and will be printed in purple by rotary process.

The central subject will be a reproduction of the Old Capitol Building; the name "Iowa" in white Roman will be at top, center, above two curved lines containing the words "Territorial Centennial" and "1838" "1938" in dark Gothic. Below the central subject will be the words "The Old Capitol Building." The denomination numeral "3" is enclosed in panels at each lower corner. "U. S. Postage—Three Cents" is inscribed between these numerals. Ornamental panels of stalks of corn rise from either side forming an arch-like effect for the central subject.

WHEAT IN A GAIN AFTER EARLY LOSS

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The wheat market dropped as much as 1¼ cents to a new five-year low during the first hour of trading today but then bounced back and closed with net gains ranging from ⅛ to ¾ cent. Firmness at the opening, based on the fact securities were strong and Liverpool failed to reflect fully the break here Friday, soon gave way to increased selling, much of which represented stop-loss orders. On the rebound after midsession, liquidation dried up in an apparently oversold pit. A firmer Winnipeg market after an early break and gains of almost a cent at Kansas City helped buying sentiment here late in the session.

On the early break all grains reached lows unequaled in the last four or five years. September wheat fell to 63½ cents, or about 12 cents under the loan price, September corn hit 52¾ cents, oats 22⅝ cents and rye 42¾ cents. Liverpool closed about a cent lower compared with declines of more than 2 cents here yesterday.

Winding up 1 to ¾ cent higher, September wheat closed at 64⅝c to 65c, and December 66¾c to 66⅞c; corn was ¾ to 1¼ cent lower, September 52⅞c to 53c; December 50⅞c to 51c; oats ¼ to ⅜ cent off; rye unchanged to ⅜ cent up and lard 7 to 10 cents lower.

Weakness in corn, traders said, was the result largely of generous rains the past two days in important sections of the belt. Export sales were estimated at 300,000 bushels.

Lower oats quotations continued to attract a fairly good shipping demand for spot grain.

Provisions declined with grains and in sympathy with hog market losses this week.

SOME STOCKS HIT HIGHS FOR YEAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Stocks rode the recovery van in today's market, many reaching new high territory for the year or longer with gains running to 2 points or so at the best.

The list encountered more insistent profit taking in the closing hour of the brief session and peak prices for the majority of leaders were reduced.

It was the liveliest Saturday since July 2, with transfers totaling 829,060 shares compared with 358,940 in the preceding 2-hour proceedings. The week's turnover was the smallest in more than a month.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .5 of a point at 50.5 and on the week was ahead 1.4 points.

Motors, steels, rubbers, rails and a wide assortment of specialties were in the forefront of the day's push.

Brokers attributed the extensions of Friday's rally mainly to the continuance of high business hopes and the impatience of traders and investors to put idle funds to work.

Although the Far Eastern Russo-Japanese major war threat was far from cheering, most market observers held to the belief a general outbreak in this quarter would be avoided.

Resumption of gold hoarding abroad aroused apprehension in some financial circles and the price of the yellow metal at London was lifted to the highest level since March a year ago.

Sterling and the French franc gave ground in terms of the dollar.

Bonds, particularly rails, followed stocks on the forward trek, but commodities lacked rising vigor. Wheat at Chicago came back ⅛ to ¾ of a cent a bushel after Friday's slump. Corn, though, dipped ¾ to 1¼ cent. Cotton was down 5 cents a bale to up 20 cents.

Motors were prominent on the upswing throughout the week, reflecting optimistic predictions for production and sales during coming months. Surveys from Detroit estimated field stocks of passenger cars in July had been reduced by about 30 per cent to the lowest point for this month since 1933. Retail passenger car sales for July were believed to have equalled or exceeded those of June.

MRS. STEINKRAUS, OF TIPTON, DIES

Mrs. Philippina Steinkraus, for more than eighty years a resident of Tipton, died at her home there Friday morning after several months illness. She was 82 years old last May 20.

"CRAZYBONE" EVIDENCE

Everyone at some time has bumped his elbow and caused a pain which went to the little finger. This so-called "crazybone" is in fact the ulnar nerve and goes to the little finger side of the hand. Injuring a nerve causes the impulse to travel toward the end of the nerve.

Dr. Roy M. Keller

Frequently one may have a pain, say in front of the chest or over the heart. The trouble may not be at the point of the pain but at the point where the nerve leaves the spine where it is irritated by the displaced vertebra The irritating impulse has traveled to the end of the nerve and manifested there just as it did when the "crazybone" was bumped.

Such pains may be in any part of the body, even to the feet, and the real cause far away; treating the point where it hurts is not the proper procedure The real cause must be located and removed. Chiropractors sepecialize on disturbances of the nervous system and are able to locate the real point of disturbance and not be fooled by the reflex pain. Many an operation has been performed where nothing was wrong but a reflex pain.

When in doubt as to the real cause—see your chiropractor.
